EISENHOWER AVAILABLE FOR SECOND TERM

President To Talk To Nation Tonight

Ike's Decision 'Positive,' Declines To Say If He Favors Nixon For Vice Presidency

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower announced today he is available for a second term.

The President's dramatic announcement came at a tense, record capacity news conference.

He said he will go on nationwide television and radio tonight, probably sometime between 9:30 and 10:30 p. m. (EST) to explain his decision to the American people.

"My answer will be positive-affirmative," Eisenhower said in giving reporters permission to quote him directly.

The President declined to say at this time whether he favors Vice President Nixon as his running mate again.

However, he again had warm praise for Nixon and called him a dedicated public servant.

Eisenhower's second term announcement had been expected at today's news conference, on the basis of his own earlier remarks, but up to the moment he walked into the conference room there was no certainty it would come.

Tantalized Newsmen

For the first eight minutes of the session, the President, calm and collected, tantalized the newsmen by talking first about various other matters—such things as the Red Cross drive for funds, the pending farm bill, and a water resources measure which is before Congress.

With the tension mounting, Eisenhower finally turned to the subject everyone had been waiting for him to discuss—his attitude regarding a second term.

He said he had an announcement which was something more personal in nature, and recalled that he had promised the newsmen that he would disclose his second term plans to them first if it could be worked out that way.

Eisenhower then said he had reached a decision whether to bid for another four years in the White House.

He went on to say that his decision involves so many factors that it was impossible for him to express it in terms of a simple yes or no.

For that reason, he added, he was asking the TV-radio networks to turn tonight to speak to the American people.

To Tell Facts To People

Eisenhower said he did not know for sure whether either the Republican party or the people generally want him to serve another four years, but that he was going directly to the people and tell them the facts.

At that point, the President ended the months of speculation and announced:

"My answer will be positive—that is affirmative."

That statement came just five months and five days after Eisenhower's Sept. 24 heart attack.

Eisenhower's announcement pre-empted his nomination by acclamation at the party's Aug. 20 convention in San Francisco—unless some development meantime should alter the situation.

Republicans from top leaders down through the rank and file have been hoping and praying that Eisenhower would consent to run again.

In the absence of a definite nod from Eisenhower in behalf of Nixon, there remains some division in the party, however, about a vice presidential nominee. Some elements would like to drop Nixon from the No. 2 spot.

Any Running Mate

But it is generally accepted that Eisenhower, as the nominee, can have anyone he wants as his running mate. And many party members believe he would want Nixon

Ike Takes Time To Tell Decision

President Calmly Gives World The Big News

WASHINGTON (AP)—The earnest man in the brown suit acted as if he had plenty of time

He praised the Red Cross. He spoke well of Italian President Gronchi. He said he wished Congress would get busy and pass the farm and Upper Colorado Basin legislation he wants.

Then, as calmly as though he knew the world had been waiting for him, he said he was willing to run for a second term.

The atmosphere in the jam-packed, steamy hot meeting room was electric with tension. The biggest crowd of newsmen ever to attend an Eisenhower news conference—311—listened with almost painful intensity as the President—still calm, still cool—told in a conversational tone that he had made up his mind and would run if the Republican party and the American people wanted him.

Then, the decision announced, a change seemed to come over Eisenhower.

Hesitancy Gone

Gone was the air of apparent hesitancy that often has characterized him in the months since his Sept. 24 heart attack. He spoke more briskly, with greater assurance. He said there were some things he didn't want to talk about in advance of his radio-television appearance tonight.

And by golly, as he himself might well have put it, he refused to talk about those things until he was good and ready.

Standing behind his usual desk with his two microphones and yellow blotter, the President was face to face with 207 reporters at about his own eye level. Upstairs, packed behind a wrought iron balcony, were 104 others. About 75 who turned up late—a queue began forming nearly three hours before—were turned away for lack of space.

Fiddled With Letter

On the blotter in front of him Eisenhower had, and sometimes fiddled with, a letter-size sheet of white paper with inch-high letters printed on it.

Apparently this was only a list of topics he intended to cover. He needed no prompting when, amid throat clearing and other signs of growing nervousness among reporters, he began talking—almost apologetically it seemed at first—of his political plans.

What he had to say, Eisenhower, told the reporters, was perhaps of a personal nature. But he said, apparently without conscious irony, that he thought they'd be interested in view of all the questions they had asked.

The room was in dead silence, broken only by the furious racing of pencils on paper and the subdued clicks and whirs of cameras in the back of the room.

The President said he had reached a second term decision. There was a sense of letdown when he said so many factors were involved in his decision that he was putting off a full explanation

Shocknessy Says Trucks Drive Autos Onto Ohio Turnpike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The commercial hauler seems to have driven automobiles off free roads and onto the Northern Ohio Turnpike, the chairman of the Ohio Turnpike Commission today told Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

This has resulted in making county, state and U.S. highways "free, private right of way" for commercial truckers, it seems to the chairman, James W. Shocknessy.

Shocknessy gave his views in a letter to the governor that recounted the steps the commission has taken to attract truckers to the turnpike. Some truckers claim tolls charged are too high to make using the turnpike economical.

Shocknessy ended his letter with the statement that "The passenger-car operator regardless of what the commercial operator does, will by his use and adoption of the Ohio Turnpike, assure its financial success just as the success of other such facilities has been assured not by the commercial hauler but by the operators of passenger vehicles."

Shocknessy called the governor's attention to the fact that in the vicinity of the 241-mile turnpike that spans northern Ohio truck traffic on state and county roads "is greater than ever before and passenger-car traffic is somewhat lessened by its diversion to the Ohio Turnpike. This is especially true in the vicinity of U.S. Route 20."

Communities along the turnpike thought the superroad would cut down greatly on truck traffic on their streets, Shocknessy said, but the decrease hasn't been as great as expected.

A packing company in northwest Ohio is only using the turnpike for nine miles on trips between Archbold, Ohio, and New York City, Shocknessy said. The company informed the commission it considers tolls too high and added:

"So many passenger automobiles have left the state highways to use the Ohio Turnpike that there is now more room on the state highways for trucks."

Injured in the crash was the train conductor, E. C. Haas, 56, of RD 1, North Lima, bruises of the left shoulder and left hip and lacerations of the head. He was treated in Youngstown after being taken there by railroad officials.

Many hogs were killed and injured in the crash, patrolmen said. A number of the hogs escaped into the fields after the truck was demolished, the patrol reported.

Engineer of the Y & O locomotive was Clyde Griffith, 57, of RD 1, North Lima. Further investigation will be made into the accident, patrolmen reported.

In another mishap at 8 a. m. Tuesday, on Route 30, just north of East Liverpool, Richard Curran, 33, of RD 2, East Liverpool, lost control of his northbound car on icy pavement, causing the auto to slide into the path of a southbound pick-up truck operated by Willard Bryan, 65, of RD 2, East Liverpool. Mi-turned over the car, the truck was crushed.

Salem Youth's Driver's License Is Suspended

LISBON — A Salem youth, 16, had his driver's license suspended for six months Tuesday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin on a charge of failure to observe a stop sign filed by state highway patrolmen.

Probe Conflict In Accounts of Iowa Campaign Gifts

Neff Denies Offering Any Money For Use By Sen. Hickenlooper

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special Senate committee strives today to resolve a direct conflict in accounts of whether oil company lawyer John M. Neff offered an Iowa campaign contribution.

Sen. George (D-Ga.), chairman of the four-member group named to investigate a $2,500 contribution from Neff which Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) rejected, said he was reasonably confident the group's public hearings could be completed today.

But the committee held similar hopes for Tuesday's session, only to find itself involved in a new line of inquiry when Neff for the first time testified about an excursion into Iowa political waters.

Denies Offering Money

The Lexington, Neb., lawyer told the committee he never offered any money as a campaign contribution for Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa). He said he had no funds to do so.

In Des Moines, Robert Goodwin, Iowa Republican national committeeman and the man with whom Neff talked last November, told newsmen Neff did offer him $1,000 for Hickenlooper's campaign. But Goodwin said he turned it down and never arranged the meeting Neff asked with the Iowa senator.

A secondary conflict involved Neff's testimony he made only one visit to Des Moines. Goodwin said there were two and that the contribution was offered on the second.

The committee immediately issued a subpoena for Goodwin to testify today.

Hickenlooper told newsmen he never had heard of the matter until Tuesday's testimony, and had never discussed it with Goodwin or anyone else.

Besides Goodwin, four other witnesses were listed for today's session.

Keck To Testify

They include President Howard B. Keck of the Superior Oil Co. of California, who provided the money for the proffered campaign funds; Elmer Patman of Austin, Tex., lawyer for Superior; Jarvis Davenport, Western campaign manager for Case in South Dakota; and E. J. Kahler, business manager of the Sioux Falls Daily Argus-Leader, with whom Neff left the $2,500 intended for Case.

A full day of testimony Tuesday disclosed Neff had been active in five states—South Dakota, Nebraska, Montana, Wyoming and Iowa. He told of making trips or calls to the states in an effort to determine the views of the senators from each on the gas bill.

As it happened, all of the 10 senators from those states except Case voted for the bill.

But Neff insisted he did nothing to influence any of them "directly or indirectly" in these votes. His only contributions, he said, were the $2,500 to Case and $2,500 for the Nebraska Republican State Committee.

Superior Oil gave him an additional $2,500 for the Nebraska GOP but he indicated most of this was gone for his expenses in connection with the Senate investigation.

Patman, Superior's attorney, told Tuesday of giving $7,500 to Neff last year and also of spending an additional $1,500 to $2,000 from Keck's personal funds for contributions.

Bricker Blasts 'Global Planners'

Claims Some Seek To Control Commodities

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) told the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Assn. annual dinner last night that some of the United Nations' spending programs "are based on the false assumption that a global distribution of wealth would be just."

He said that on the international, as well as domestic scene, "men afflicted with planner's itch" are seeking to control the production, distribution and rise of basic commodities—such as wheat, oil, sugar and rubber.

The goal of this group, he continued, "is total regimentation of international trade."

"The friends of the free market economy drew first blood when the UN's international trade organizations collapsed for want of United Nations support."

"But when this master plan aborted, the global planners formulated international agreements for particular commodities."

He cited the Olive Oil Fund, which he said would be known unofficially as "OOF," adding:

"You know who would foot the bill."

Bricker said two agencies—the UN's International Labor Organization and Human Rights Commission—are seeking to regulate under treaty law "the economic rights and duties of people all over the world."

The "extravagant economic promises" of ILO and UN treaties, he said, "cannot be fulfilled without the imposition of unjust economic duties."

Auto License Plates Go On Sale Tomorrow

The 1956 motor vehicle license plates will go on sale tomorrow at the local AAA office, Mrs. A. P. Morris, deputy registrar of motor vehicles, said today. The auto plates will cost $10.25 per set.

The office will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The vehicle certificate of title must be presented when making application for the plates, although the application itself no longer must be notarized, according to Mrs. Morris.

Also, the owner, after signing the application, may give the form to another person who may pick up the plates at the office. This is a change in the law, Mrs. Morris said, since the applicant previously had to pick up the plates in person.

The new plates are white lettering on a green background. The 1955 license plates will expire on March 31.

This Is The Year A Lady Can 'Bespoke Ye Man She Likes'

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the year when a young lady can "bespoke ye man she likes" with a tradition at least six centuries old to back her up.

But judging from the statistics of Leap Years past, there will be no great leap in the number of marriages this year.

A theory to explain this is offered by Prof. Nelson G. Hannawalt, who teaches psychology at Douglass College for women in New Brunswick, N. J.

He said unattached males are just as safe this year as any other because the ladies always do the selecting, but unusually manage to make the men think it's their idea.

The idea of Leap Year marriage proposals goes back at least to the year 1288, when a law was passed in Scotland giving that right to the ladies—with a one-pound fine if the gentleman "refuses to talk her to be his lawful wyfe."

The extra day every four years—except on "even hundred" years not divisible by 400—dates back to 46 B. C., when Julius Caesar's astronomers set up the 365-day year.

5 Areas Ask To Leave County School System

LISBON — Five re-districting school petitions were presented on Tuesday night at the County Board of Education meeting in the board office in the courthouse. No action was taken by the board on the petitions.

Petitions were received from the following districts:

Knox School District, to leave the county school system and join with the newly created Mahoning District; Unity District, seeking inclusion in the East Palestine School District; Fairfield Twp. section, seeking inclusion in the Columbiana School District; southwest section of Elkrun Twp., seeking inclusion in the Lisbon School District.

The county board decided that separate hearings will be held on each petition, during which spokesmen for both sides will be given the opportunity to express their views. The board will inform the sponsors of the petitions of the hearing dates which have not been set.

Rebels Ordered To Cease Firing

Mollet Promises Algerian Elections

PARIS (AP)—Most Paris papers were critical today of Premier Guy Mollet's call for Algerian rebels to cease firing or face intensified French military action.

Gen. Augustin Guillaume, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, was reported to have offered the resignation because of differences with several cabinet members over the proposed military measures.

There was no immediate indication whether Guillaume was against Mollet's plans or trying to defend them against opponents within the coalition cabinet, but a defense ministry spokesman said the matter "might be brought up" at a cabinet meeting today.

First reports from the revolted North African territory said both French and Moslems there also were disappointed by the Premier's radio-television speech Tuesday. The Moslems thought he hadn't conceded enough to them. The French settlers had expected a stronger warning to the rebels.

An Algerian guerrilla leader in Cairo, Mohammed ben Bella, warned that the rebels may seek Soviet arms if the French step up their military campaign.

Mollet set no time limit for acceptance or rejection of his cease-fire plea, but promised to hold "genuinely free elections" within three months after fighting stops to produce an Algerian leadership with which France could negotiate.

Miss Lucy Back In Court Today

Renews Fight to Crack Alabama Color Barrier

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Autherine Lucy today renews her court struggle to crack Alabama's rigid segregation barriers.

For Federal Judge H. Hobart Grooms the basic question is whether the 26-year-old Negro, a former schoolteacher, should be returned to the all-white University of Alabama campus at Tuscaloosa. A mob drove her off the campus Feb. 6.

The Lucy case has assumed enormous significance here as a test of the federal court's willingness to insist on compliance with its orders despite the state's powerful pro-segregation sentiments and customs.

In Montgomery, Gov. James E. Folsom again said he would maintain law and order at the university regardless of the outcome of the hearing.

"I don't expect trouble," he said. "I expect the good old laws of common sense to prevail." Then he added: "I want all the mothers and fathers of students at the university to know I am doing all in my power to keep their children from getting hurt."

For 29 months Miss Lucy has sought the right to be educated at the 125-year-old university, once a training school for Confederate officers.

With the aid of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People she fought the case through to the U.S. Supreme Court and won. Last July 1 Judge Grooms ordered her admission as a student. She enrolled for the mid-term semester, but when she actually tried to attend classes she was met by an egg-and-rock-throwing mob of 3,000.

In the wake of the riot the university's Board of Trustees barred her from the campus "for her own safety."

Miss Lucy's attorney Arthur D. Shores promptly sought contempt of court proceedings against 13 officers and trustees of the university and four men identified only as members of the mob.

In addition, Shores has asked that the dean of women, Sarah Healy, be ordered to provide Miss Lucy with a dormitory room and permit her to use the dining facilities.

In a last-minute move yesterday, the legal situation was further complicated by attorneys for the university officials, who asked that each defendant be tried separately and before a jury.

Among the 17 defendants are William F. Adams, dean of admissions; University President Oliver C. Carmichael; and Thomas S. Lawson, a trustee and associate justice of the Alabama Supreme Court.

"WOLF PACK" GOES TO JAIL—Nine convicted teen-age members of a "wolf pack" gang file from the county jail in Chicago to start the journey to Joliet State Penitentiary. The youthful gang members will serve sentences from one to 16 years for the murder of Kenneth Slebocka, 17. Handcuffed together in two groups, they are led by Clement Macis, 15, labeled as the trigger-man in the fatal attack.

Ohio Farm Leader Raps High Supports

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A farm leader today urged Congress to reverse action of the Senate Agriculture Committee and "knock out" the committee's recommendation to bring back 90 per cent mandatory farm price supports.

W. N. Woods, of Maumee, president of the cooperative association, warned that high rigid supports would "continue to pile up farm surpluses, without regard to demand." He addressed the 23rd annual meeting of Farm Bureau Cooperatives here.

Woods declared high supports are products of "war-time," designed to stimulate farm production.

The Maumee grain farmer said he saw real merit in the proposed "soil fertility bank plan," and that he believes the plan provides "an opportunity for starting to reduce existing surpluses, and at the same time, preventing a disastrous slump in farm income."

Eight Ohio county Farm Bureau Cooperatives were honored for carrying on the "best over-all cooperative program." Named tops in Ohio was the Adams County Farm Bureau Cooperative, Cherry Fork. Second and third place honors went to the Henry County Cooperative, Napoleon, and the Hancock County Cooperative, Findlay, respectively. Other district winners were Cuyahoga, Mahoning, Auglaize, Scioto, and Muskingum counties.

New Effort To Be Made To Head Off Bus Strike

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Another effort will be made Monday to stall off a threatened strike for March 7 of 300 workers of City Transit Co.—Dayton's major bus line.

A meeting Tuesday of company and union representatives failed to ease the strike threat by drivers and maintenance men. Federal Mediator James Wilson of Cincinnati, who sat in on the talks, said the "spirit of the negotiations continues to be friendly" and that another meeting will be held Monday.

A strike of City Transit could affect operations of two suburban bus lines here which are set to merge with City Transit March 1. A walkout by all three lines would leave 140,000 bus passengers without service. City Transit serves 120,000 of the total.

A contract dispute mainly over wages and number of hours in the work week precipitated the bus workers' vote to strike.

U. S. Relying More On Overseas Resources

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Increasing U. S. industrial demands and "shrinkage" of American resources have prompted this country to rely more on foreign nations each year for raw materials and mineral fuels, an executive of Pittsburgh Steel Co. says.

Joseph G. Smith, the company's director of purchases and raw materials, spoke Tuesday at the 23rd annual meeting of Farm Bureau Cooperatives.

He urged public awareness of America's dependence on world trade and the government's problems in working out adequate trade arrangements.

The bureau reelected all officers, including President W. N. Woods of Maumee.

Roulette-Playing GI Must Finish Enlistment

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—An Ohio soldier who went AWOL five years ago to try his luck at roulette and never came back because the Army reported he wasn't being sought as a deserter, was ordered today to make up his lost enlistment time.

Federal Judge Philip Forman ruled that 33-year-old Robert Parsley should have checked further when the Army gave him a "not wanted" report.

Besides, said the judge, an Army enlistment continues until the contract is terminated and the Army did not end Parsley's service.

Parsley, from Myers Road, Geneva, Ohio, was remanded to military authorities at nearby Ft. Dix to serve out the 2 years and 7 months remaining under his enlistment.

He told the court in his federal suit to be free of the Army, that he had a "sure-fire system" for making a fortune at roulette and left his Ft. Knox, Ky., Army post Jan. 3, 1951, to give it a whirl at Reno, Nev.

Within four days he was broke and surrendered to police in Reno, declaring himself a deserter.

But when police checked with Army authorities at Ft. Knox they got the report that Parsley was a "not wanted."

Harvard Library Gets Tennyson Manuscripts

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Harvard University's Houghton Library has acquired the manuscripts of the great English poet, Alfred Lord Tennyson.

Harvard said Tuesday night the 350 poems in first drafts and revisions just as they were written by Tennyson are "the world's most important collection of the writings of the great 19th century poet-laureate."

Harvard added that no other collection contains so many of Tennyson's worksheets, covering the entire span of his career.

The university bought the manuscripts from the poet's grandson, Sir Charles Tennyson, for an undisclosed sum. Money used was from the income from a bequest of Amy Lowell, famous American poet.

The collection is being catalogued for the use of scholars.

Ohio's Timber Growth Gaining Steadily

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio has enough timber standing in its forests to build a five-room frame house for every person living in Cleveland and Cincinnati.

And that volume is increasing at a rate equivalent to 27,500 additional frame houses a year, says the Ohio Forest Industries Committee of Chillicothe.

The facts are among the forest statistics listed in a booklet, "Ohio Forest Facts," just published by the committee, state sponsor of the tree farm program. George L. Snowden of The Mead Corp., Chillicothe, head the committee.

The report said Ohio's 5.4 million acres of forest area, covering 21 per cent of the state's land, help support a vast forest products industry which manufactures wood products valued at a billion dollars annually.

Most of the state's forest land is in small private holdings owned by some 150,000 people. The booklet says long-range forest management to assure continued crops of timber is gaining in Ohio. At present, there are 395 tree farms in Ohio, comprising 98,000 acres of "well-managed forest land," the committee said.

Blame Crash On 'Human Failure'

Engineer Passed 2 Signals; 13 Killed

SWAMPSCO, Mass. (AP)—The Boston & Maine Railroad today blamed "human failure" for the rear end collision of two commuter trains which killed 13 and injured 100 at the height of a blinding snowstorm Tuesday.

The B & M said its preliminary investigation showed a Budd train passed two warning signals and a flagman before ramming into the rear of a halted passenger train in this coastal town about 12 miles north of Boston.

A statement by the railroad said the engineer of the second train, Ernest Toudellotte, 55, of Winchester, who was killed in the crash, violated operating rules.

A less serious rear end collision of two B&M trains occurred in Revere, about 10 miles away, an hour later and the railroad said that, too, was caused by "similar circumstances."

Twenty persons were injured in the Revere accident, including some who had escaped injury in the Swampscott wreck and had boarded the other train to continue to Boston.

In the Swampscott wreck, a four-car, self-propelled Budd train headed from Danvers to Boston, smashed into the rear of the train, bound from Portsmouth, N. H., to Boston, which had stopped because its engineer couldn't read a snow-plastered signal.

The Portsmouth train was made up of six cars and a diesel engine. The two trains carried about 1,000 passengers, most of them en route to work and school.

The leading car of the second train was smashed open "like a dropped watermelon," one eyewitness said. It rammed its way under almost the entire length of the rear coach of the halted train, lifting it in the air and twisting it to one side.

Some of the dead were trapped over an hour under twisted steel and beneath piles of debris.

Many of the injured were carried or made their way to a garage and a lumber yard nearby to receive first aid before transfer to hospitals in Lynn, Salem, Beverly and Marblehead.

Of the 100 persons who were taken to hospitals for treatment, 28 were kept overnight, many of them in critical condition.

Electronic Machines Now Sort Lemons

OXNARD, Calif. (AP)—Six electronic color-sorting machines, capable of separating as many as 1,128,000 lemons daily into five color classifications, have replaced 40 human fruit graders here.

Incorporated in the machines are photo tubes and memory units which register the five degrees of color in marketable lemons. Fruit passes through beams from the tubes, then drops onto separate conveyor belts according to its degree of ripeness, denoted by color.

BID ON MIAMI PROJECTS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Apparent low bids on projects at Miami University at Oxford were announced Tuesday by the state department of public works.

They included a bid of $108,500 by Gesling Plumbing & Heating Co., Lancaster, for plumbing in a new women's dormitory and dining hall; $11,337 by Arthur Painting Co., Akron, for interior painting of the student center building; and $52,500 by Walter Follmer of Hamilton for exterior utility services for three women's halls and one men's hall.

LONGER LIFE — Medical science and technology have conquered many diseases that once took terrible toll of life. Medical research brings nearer the day when the few undefeated "killer" diseases remaining will meet their Waterloo. The average baby born today can expect to live nearly nine years longer than one born in 1900.

ABUNDANT FOOD — Americans are the best-fed nation in all history. The rapid development of farm mechanization, development of new fertilizers and scientific agricultural skills give us enough food to feed ourselves, to give and sell abroad and still have a tremendous surplus.

BETTER HOUSING — And more of it. Homebuilding now is re-treating from the peak of 1950, but it is still hundreds of thousands of units above a decade ago. And the new homes being built are more healthful, more comfortable and more convenient to live in than ever before.

Trial Begins In Slaying of Ohio Game Protector

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—First state witnesses are expected to testify today in the second-degree murder trial of George Baldrige, 63, former Adams County sheriff.

Thirteen witnesses—eight for the prosecution and five for the defense—are expected to be called. Baldrige is accused of the shotgun slaying of Irvin J. Patrick, 43, a state game protector. The shooting occurred on the first day of the hunting season, Nov. 15, 1955, on Baldrige's 300-acre farm.

On instructions from Common Pleas Judge John P. Case, the jury Tuesday spent about 45 minutes touring the farm seven miles north of here before hearing opening statements of the defense and prosecution.

Prosecutor John S. Bath called the shooting "a purposeful and malicious" act.

Defense Atty. Emory S. Smith of Portsmouth said the shooting had been "an accident."

During the trial Bath is expected to call as witnesses Dr. Mel A. Davis of Columbus who performed the post-mortem examination; Dr. N. M. Reiff, Fayette County coroner; Orland Hays, sheriff; Robert McArthur, deputy sheriff; Frank Boylan, 1955 president of the County Game Assn.; Richard Craig, a neighbor of Baldrige; Joseph Martina of Columbus, investigator for the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation; and Jack Kamman, state game supervisor. Kamman was working with Patrick the morning he was killed.

Defense Attorneys Smith, W. S. Paxson of Washington Court House, and E. S. Young of West Union have scheduled as witnesses five relatives of Baldrige who were in the hunting party at the time of the shooting. They are: Hugh Baldrige of West Union, a brother; Donald Butler of Seaman, Adams County, brother-in-law; D. B. Butler of Seaman and Robert Butler of Williamsburg, nephews, and Mrs. Robert Butler.

Sweeney Says State Bureaus 'Bogged Down'

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's state departments are "bogged down—slow to a walk because of habits, internal politics, outlooks and a negativism which belongs to the horse and buggy days," says Cleveland Municipal Judge John Sweeney.

Sweeney, a former secretary of state now seeking the Democratic nomination for governor, told party workers last night that Ohio faces pressing "inadequacies in the fields of highways, mental health and education."

"Vast sums of monies have already been voted to relieve these dangerous problems," he said. "Yet we find our state departments bogged down...."

Calling for a Democratic victory in November, Sweeney said his own candidacy offers "free thinking Ohio Democrats a chance to regain their respective voice in the destiny of their candidates."

DROPS AIR ROTC

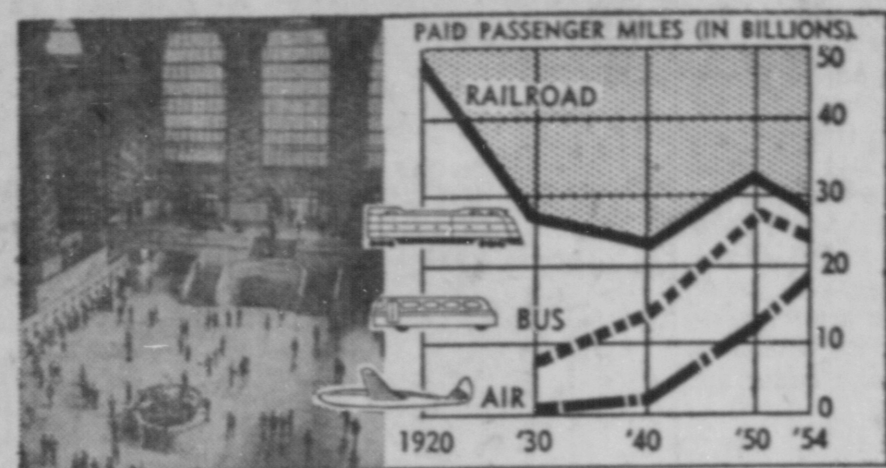

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Oberlin College definitely will discontinue its Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps unit after June, 1957, in spite of an Air Force offer to keep it alive, William E. Stevenson, college president, said Tuesday.

Stevenson, declining the Air Force offer, said arrangements have been made for interested Oberlin students to take the training at Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland. Present ROTC enrollment at Oberlin is less than 35.

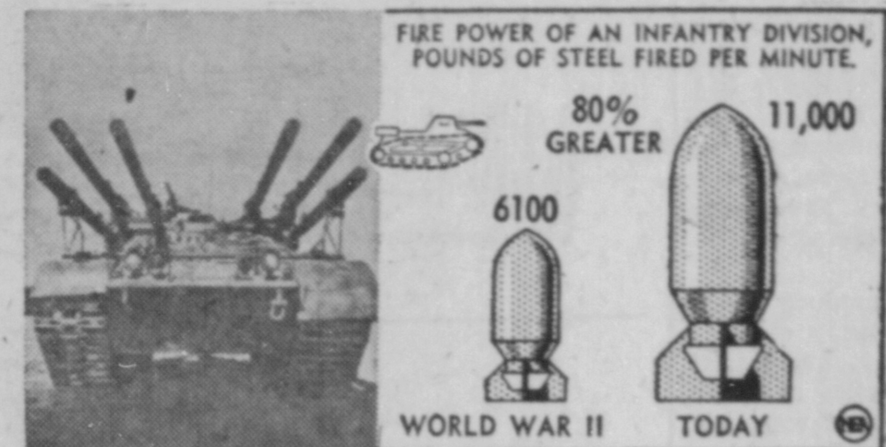

WHAT 'GOOD OLD DAYS?'

We Never Had It So Good

Any time you hear some nostalgia-smitten gaffer moaning for the "good old days," just ask him "Like what?" Like back in 1900, when, more than 500,000 infants under a year old would die each year? The present number is 100,000, with promise that science will continue to reduce the death toll. In 1900 travel was by horse and wagon or coal-dust dirty, drafty trains. That's when food distribution was so limited that families lived on a narrow, monotonous diet and a single orange in the toe of his Christmas stocking was a great treat for Junior. Well—you get the idea. The graphs below tell more of the story. So when you meet that nostalgic gaffer just tell him—in the slang of his day—"Go 'way back and sit down!" Data and charts adapted from Steelways Magazine of the American Iron & Steel Institute.

VARIED TRAVEL — Railroads first expanded horse-and-buggy traveling to new horizons, enabling Americans to circulate farther, see more country, meet more people. Automobiles put a nation on wheels. Then airplanes expanded our horizons to the far ends of the earth.

STRONGER DEFENSES — Our defensive weapons and techniques of World War II astonished the world. Today most of these marvels are obsolete. We live in the jet age and are rapidly moving into the "intercontinental missile" era that was only a fiction-science authors' dream a few years ago.

Seven Children Perish In Fire In Arkansas

MARIANNA, Ark. (AP)—Seven Negro children perished near here late Tuesday night when fire destroyed their four room frame house.

The pregnant mother, Mrs. Viola Edwards, was burned critically, but the father and two other children escaped.

The dead were identified by their 33-year-old father Lonnie Edwards as Willie, 13; Patricia Ann, 8; Lula Jean, 6; Garland, 4; and Jerome, 1.

Edwards told an ambulance driver that he awoke to find the fire virtually had engulfed the farm house, seven miles south of here. Edwards and two children, Lonnie Jr., 5, and Eudora, 7, raced to safety.

Mrs. Edwards stumbled and fell as she fought to escape, Edwards said. She regained her feet, however, and got outside the house.

Lonnie Jr. and Eudora were treated by a physician in Marianna for minor burns. Edwards wasn't injured.

Cause of the fire wasn't immediately known.

More Than Lobbying

Besides lobbying, "political activities, campaign contributions and any and all other activities or practices whose aim is to influence U.S. senators or officers and employees of the executive branch are to be investigated by the special bipartisan committee of eight senators appointed last Thursday by Vice President Nixon.

This is a sweeping mandate. If it is carried out, the special committee could probe into one of the most sensitive places in government — the practice among some lawmakers of continuing profitable private connections which color their judgment on public questions.

Among these lawmakers are some who tie into appointed officials of the executive department for not divesting themselves of their private holdings and their business connections when they go to Washington to serve their government.

Although they could step aside on showdown votes in recognition of their prejudice, as is done by members of the judicial branch, lawmakers blandly assume they have the right to do what they do not concede administrators and judges have any right to do.

There are lawmakers who never have been known to deviate by so much as a comma or a semicolon from the policy line laid down for them by their sponsors. Whether the sponsors happen to be union executives, business executives, mine owners, farmers, or oil men is all one and the same.

Oil men happen to be in bad repute at the moment, but an honest investigation of their reasons for wanting the natural gas bill passed will be matched by an equally honest investigation of the opposition's reasons for wanting it defeated and the methods used by both sides.

Lobbying as such might prove to be the least of the methods.

Materialism The Key

Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota has chided Secretary of State Dulles for hinting that the Kremlin's latest twistings and turnings reflect desperation—and this time Dulles asked for the chiding.

If the United States were to change its own ideas as radically as the Soviet Union's ideas are being changed for it by the Communists, it would be desperate. If it were to say George Washington no longer deserved to be a national hero and Abraham Lincoln was no better than the South said he was, which is in effect what the Communists are doing with Stalin, the country would be headed for oblivion.

But the United States never has adopted dialectical materialism as its creed. The Soviet Union has. That is the key to its behavior.

Dialectical materialism is a philosophy that says a country's stage of economic development is the only thing that matters.

Cultural and political forces are disregarded. Ethics and religion are ignored. Nothing matters, except materialism.

The Soviet Union has reached a stage of economic development which permits it to concentrate on trade and co-existence, in the opinion of its Communists.

This is no sign of weakness or desperation. On the contrary, the Soviet Union never was more dangerous than it is now, when it thinks it can afford to quit scaring people.

Civilized Disagreement

Much was made last week of a meeting between George Meany, president of AFL-CIO, and Charles R. Sligh Jr., chairman of the executive board of National Manufacturers Association.

Too much was made of it, especially of the inability of the two men to agree on compulsory unionism. Under the circumstances, agreement was out of the question.

George Meany surely did not expect when he proposed the meeting that Charles Sligh or any other spokesman for an employer point of view would adopt the viewpoint that labor monopoly is admissible in a society that bars private monopoly. Slight, on the other hand, could not have expected Meany or any other union executive to back down from the position that the right to organize excludes the right to remain outside the organization.

But it was reassuring, nevertheless, that two men with irreconcilable differences of opinion on a fundamental issue were able to get together and talk about their differences. This is the best hope there can be of an era of mutual understanding in which employers and union leaders will have learned that in the United States there is no fixed necessity for industrial warfare.

That is a misconception bequeathed to them by their counterparts in Europe. They are learning to rise above it, but progress is slow. There could be no progress at all without mutual respect — and that is being accomplished by men like Meany and Sligh.

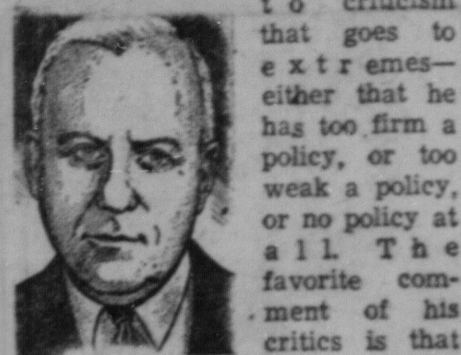

Favorite Whipping Boy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Dulles Most Malinged U.S. Secretary Of State

Secretary John Foster Dulles may become known as "the man with the impossible job."

Whatever Dulles says is subject to criticism that goes to extremes—either that he has too firm a policy, or too weak a policy, or no policy at all.

Lawrence

Asia" or that "we are losing the world." The world seems to be regularly "lost" in January but regained in June when Congress votes billions of foreign aid to Allies, some of whom have to be cajoled annually to remain allies.

The truth is that the world situation today is made in large part by the Kremlin. The American secretary of state is confronted daily by the actions taken by Soviet Russia around the globe, over which no power of coercion exists—for, naturally, military force is taboo. The Russians, of course, don't tell Dulles in advance the steps they intend to take or how they are executing them. He is also confronted by the speeches made by partisan critics—most of them Democrats who consider an election year a good time for sniping.

THE AVERAGE AMERICAN knows very little about what these confusing crosscurrents of criticism mean and what motivates them.

All he reads is that the secretary of state has been traveling tens of thousands of miles by airplane around the world and seems to be about the most indefatigable secretary of state the nation has ever had—but still his services are apparently unsatisfactory, at least to the Democrats.

Some of the members of Congress are conscientious about wanting an exposition of foreign policy for their background. Others show by their speeches and comments that what they are seeking is campaign publicity, and they would just as soon say derogatory things about their own government if it helps to support a charge of alleged incompetence against the secretary of state. It is so easy for members of Congress to disparage the efforts of the United States government abroad, though the speeches profess to be attacking only the Republican party.

If the secretary of state says he notes a change in Soviet tactics, many of the Democratic party's spokesmen jump on him and say they haven't noticed any. If he says the free nations are making headway, the critics say they haven't noticed any. Or else they arise, "Why don't we take the initiative?"

WHEN ALL IS SAID and done, there is no coercive initiative the United States can take except to imitate the Communists or engage in preventive war. This has been considered sinful and impractical and as the dream of some "right wingers," though nobody has ever yet been able to produce evidence that such advocates even exist here.

If the secretary of state, refers to the "deterrent force" built up by the United States, then he is accused of going to "the brink of war." When he points out that little wars might mean big wars, and that atomic weapons might have to be used in small wars, he is immediately assailed as creating a bad impression "on the peoples of Asia."

When the secretary of the Air Force answers a question at a public meeting and says America may have to use atomic weapons in little wars to prevent them from becoming big wars—as he said last week—it scarcely gets attention. In fact, nobody in Congress has since risen up to criticize the secretary of air, and maybe it's because so many members of Congress are for various reasons beating the drums in a cry for a bigger and better air force.

SO THE LOT of a secretary of state is a difficult one, and the average American will have to form his own judgment. He can do so by reading such a well-reasoned address as Dulles gave last Sunday. The secretary doesn't say the change in tactics by the Soviets necessarily means peace. He doesn't say the Soviet power has crumbled. On the contrary, he shows that the Communists now are trying an even more devious method because they have been blocked in military aggression. He says:

"The future may produce a different Russia. But today changes in creed and conduct are looked upon as ways to make it easier to achieve old goals of conquest. If there is less apparent intolerance and less reliance on violence, there is perhaps more reliance than ever on division, enticement and duplicity."

Dulles isn't deceived by the Soviet tactics. He is struggling to combat them without going to war, and the worst service that can be done to the cause of the United States today in the world is to spread the erroneous impression that Americans want to surrender to Red China and Soviet Russia and give billions of dollars to the "neutralist" nations of Asia and pave the way for further surrenders there. Dulles adds:

"COMMUNIST MILITARY power has now been checked by the cohesion, resolution, vigilance and strength of the free nations. . . . They (the Communists) came up against the granite of a declared and strong resolve. If that granite should turn to putty, then violence and threat of war would again become the order of the day."

Dulles lays it on the line frankly, earnestly and conscientiously. If some of the critics would forget their partisan selfishness and try to see things through truly American eyes, they would sympathize with a pilot who, in the most difficult period of our history, is trying to steer a course away from war and to meet those hurricanes and storms for which no American—not even the secretary of state—can be held responsible.

value at $10,000, but others have since been uncovered and the Clarke discovery is now worth only $300.

At one point the Clarke enterprise required two warehouses, but he decided to restrict it to his home, where two barns were needed to house the collection. Clarke also publishes a catalogue - type newspaper, which goes to 9,300 subscribers quarterly.

The seaway and power projects will flood out parts of Morrisburg, so the Clarke collection will have to be moved—no mean feat in itself.

Relics Yield To Seaway

By ALAN EMORY

The St. Lawrence river's twin power and seaway projects apparently will require moving Canada's largest collection of old books, newspapers and documents.

The collection of about 125,000 items is now located at "Old Authors Farm," owned by H. Borden Clarke, some three miles west of Morrisburg, Ont.

Clarke, a 54-year-old native of Nova Scotia, opened a book business in Ottawa in the depression years of the 1930's. The story has it that one day a junk dealer brought him a roll of old papers he had found in the vault of a demolished railway building.

The dealer got $10 from Clarke for the papers. Examination proved them to be long - lost maps of the Rideau Canal hand - drawn by Col. John By, whose signature and the date 1832 were on each map.

There were sold to Queen's University, Kingston, later for an undisclosed sum.

Another find was of what then was Canada's rarest stamp, a three - penny item, which turned up in an 1881 diary. Then it was

Taking The Credit

By TRUMAN TWILL

They made fun of the long list of people and organizations who always take credit for television shows on a recent TV spectacular, but it wasn't funny. And it won't stop a practice that confirms a public suspicion about show business being full of popoffs and showoffs with no sense of proportion.

We have been thinking about the credit list if newspapers made a practice of doing what the movies and TV customarily do.

The wood to make the wood pulp for this newspaper was cut by a French-Canadian named Pierre Batisse. It was floated down the river by his brother, Antoine, and put through the digester run by a Canadian of Swedish extraction named Olaf Svenson, employed by Tall Timbers Paper Co. Ltd.

The newsprint was loaded by Carl Flugel and delivered to its destination by the American Association of Railroads and Hustle-Bustle Haulers Inc. It was webbed into a Presto press by this newspaper's own press crew through the courtesy of the Pressmen's Union. Ink was furnished by the Howard Flint Co.

Typography was by courtesy of International Typographical Union, and proofreading by the same union. Stereotyping was by the Stereotypers Union. Typewriter ribbons were by Smudge & Smudge. Typewriter was by Underwood, with an assist by Royal. Pencils were by Neversplit, erasers by Eberhard Faber, mechanical composition by Teletypesetter and Merganthaler. Babbitt supplied the metal.

Nothing worn by the cast was through courtesy of Easy Payment. Aspirin was by Bayer, tobacco by American Tobacco Co. and visits to the water cooler were made possible by General Electric. Webster's New International furnished the words, and the idea was swiped from National Broadcasting Co.

American Telephone & Telegraph, Bell Telephone, the traffic department of this newspaper and a newspaperboy named Albert also deserve to be mentioned.

Also Benjamin Franklin, Thomas

Jefferson, other members of the Constitutional Convention of 1789, J. P. Zenger and all the others who made newspapering possible when there still was some doubt about its right to survive.

Old-age benefits and unemployment compensation were made possible by the Social Security Administration. Taxes were collected by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service.

Additional credits belong to heating companies, power companies, furniture manufacturers, rubber cement manufacturers and the Chinese pig bristle industry, which made the brush used to stick together various sheets of paper.

A credit line also belongs to the obscure working staff who stuck together the ideas and made the whole thing jell, along with the Audit Bureau of Circulation, American Newspaper Publishers Association and other regional and national organizations without whose tireless efforts no column could be produced.

Unfortunately, there is no room left for a column. That is the usual outcome of the practice of giving credit to all the people who push buttons, turn cranks and shuffle the papers behind the crystallization of some idea dreamed up by some obscure originator who never gets any credit at all.

Behaviorism At Harvard

By RAYMOND MOLEY

The final report of Donald K. David, signaling his retirement as dean of the Graduate School of Business Administration at Harvard, provides a vivid example of the immense power that the Ford Foundation is exercising over academic institutions of even the highest rank. That influence, it seems will be directed toward the adoption by such institutions of a very special type of research which seems to have possessed the foundation since the beginning of its career under Paul Hoffman and Robert Hutchins.

It seems that during the past year the Ford Foundation bestowed upon the school a grant of 2 million dollars for research, with a strong hint that it be used in large part to "further the increased use of the behavioral sciences, especially sociology, psychology and anthropology, in research in and teaching of business administration." When 3 billion dollars gives a hint, of course, it is a command.

It is interesting that Dean David is also a director of the Ford Foundation, which raises the point of not a conflict, but what might be called a community of interests. It is more blessed to give than to receive. But when you can give and receive at the same time, you may consider yourself twice blessed.

It is interesting also to note that the dean's report was sent to graduates of the school with a covering letter from Thomas H. Carroll, who is not only president of the alumni association but vice president of the Ford Foundation.

The directive that the funds be used on the "behavioral" sciences follows almost the exact language of the original purposes of the Ford Foundation.

The dean's report points out that research undertaken in the school "must represent the specific interests of the individual members of the faculty."

Apparently the "specific interests" of the present members of the faculty do not provide the preoccupation with "behaviorism" so dear to the Ford people. Accordingly, new talent is to be summoned in the person of Prof. Samuel A. Stouffer of the Department of Social Relations across the Charles River.

Dr. Stouffer is well fitted to lead the business school into the mysterious "scientism" desired by the Ford Foundation. He has been a member of no less than four Ford advisory committees. During the war he served in the so-called Information and Education Division of the War Department. Mainly, according to ex-servicemen, that operation was intent upon performing as many curious behavioristic experiments as possible while the human guinea pigs were under what social scientists call "control."

He is co-author of "The American Soldier," a work which will be bitterly remembered by many responsible army officers. At the University of Chicago and later at Harvard he was able to conduct his "controlled" probings on sophomores.

At the business school, Dr. Stouffer will work with a team of the faculty leading toward a "new long-range program of research in the area of consumer behavior."

One graduate of the school said, after reading of the expected visitation of Dr. Stouffer, that apparently "controlled experiments" which have hitherto been possible only on (a) soldiers, (b) sophomores, (c) guests in state institutions, will now be performed upon (d) customers for the benefit of prospective marketing experts.

So the old rule that the customer is a supreme being who is always right will no longer have that distinction. He is to become a guinea pig along with many other formerly free citizens.

Lawyers will remember the invasion by the behaviorists of the law schools and the strange sociological judicial opinions we have seen in recent years. Now business management is to have its turn.

In any event, this whole matter illustrates the creeping control by the bureaucracy of the Ford Foundation over higher education. It can happen even in a school like this which has won a fine distinction by keeping fairly close to its major interest which, according to its catalogue, is "to provide opportunity for men to develop themselves for positions of responsibility in private business or in the business of government." In short, business was its business.

The Hypnotic Dentist

("Hypnotism Effective in Dentistry" — Headline)

Dentist — Hello, what can I do TO you? Patient — I have an aching tooth, unless you can make me think I am somebody else.

Dentist — Is it the same tooth I treated last week?

Patient — I was not here last week unless your mesmerism and my susceptibility are more effective than I think.

Dentist — You look like a patient who was here before with a bad tooth.

Patient — Did he have it out?

Dentist — No, but I almost had HIM out. Who sent you to see me?

Patient — I got the suggestion from a leaf reader.

Dentist — Are you susceptible to hypnotism? In other words do you pass out easily?

Patient — Only when I get the dental bill.

Dentist — Now relax . . . free your mind of everything while I probe the tooth.

Patient (as the dentist goes too deep) — Are you probing for a tooth or for Bridie Murphy?

Dentist — Give in . . . forget everything and I'll see if I can put you to sleep.

Patient — What'll it cost? Maybe sleeping pills would be cheaper.

Dentist (giving him the eye) — Follow me closely and don't resist! . . . You are the Maharajah of Indore . . . money means nothing to you.

Patient — Send the bill to the Maharajah and I'll feel easier in this treatment.

Dentist — You are a potentate rich beyond the dreams of avarice . . . You are riding on an elephant.

Patient — Is that an elephant? I sensed the ivory but thought it was in either your head or mine.

Dentist — You are no longer a poor man, I tell you.

Patient — Nevertheless I have a poor man's toothache and it's the same as a Maharajah's. In fact this could be the elephant's toothache.

Dentist — Close your eyes . . . You are riding on a magic carpet.

Patient — It's the first magic carpet I ever heard of with a drilling machine and all those forcers.

Dentist — You are not in a dentist's chair . . . You are flying over the Taj Mahal. And I am with you.

Patient — Then what are you doing in a white coat instead of an airman's uniform?

Dentist — Sleep! Sleep! Slumber! You are now over the Garden of Allah.

Patient — If that's the Garden of Allah what are all those back numbers of National Geographic doing around?

Dentist — The ghostly presence of someone else is with us. It is a girl who says she knew you in a former existence.

Patient — Is her name Murphy?

Dentist — She seems very worried.

Patient — If she had my toothache and your dental routine she would have more reason to be worried.

Dentist — It's no use. You're a bad hypnosis subject. This will cost you twenty - eight dollars with tax.

Patient — Itemize it.

Dentist — Twenty dollars for the flying carpet, five dollars for the elephant and three dollars deposit on your next visit.

Patient (in full flight) — You won't get me here again, even with Morry Bernstein as your assistant.

Republicans Confident They'll Control Ohio Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republicans express confidence they will elect majorities this year in both houses of the 1957 Legislature.

They base their optimism on a nose count of candidates in the May 8 primaries and on past successes in general elections favoring the GOP.

Only once since the 1937 Legislature have Democrats gained margins in the 1949 House and Senate.

Leaders said adoption of the Massachusetts-type ballot, first used by Ohio in the 1950 election, made it doubly difficult for Democrats to win control of the General Assembly.

That type ballot, they explained, groups candidates for the offices sought and prevents "coat tail" riding that was prevalent in general elections under the old party-column ballot. Primary candidates appear on separate Democratic and Republican ballots.

Voters next November will elect 139 representatives and 34 senators. Republicans need 70 House seats and 18 in the Senate for control. The 1955 legislature had 136 house members and 33 senators. Republicans had 89 representatives and 21 senators last time.

Fractional apportionment under the 1956 census accounts for a larger 1957 General Assembly. Cuyahoga, Clark and Stark counties each will have one more representative. The 30th-33rd Senatorial District will have two senators instead of one. The district is composed of Ottawa, Sandusky, Erie, Huron, Fulton, Henry, Putnam, Wood and Hancock counties.

Democrats lack senatorial candidates in three districts, virtually assuring election of Republicans there. Unopposed by either Democrats or Republicans are Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem of Nelsonville in the 9th-14th District and Ross Pepple of Lima in the 32nd. In the 7th-8th district, incumbent Sen. Oakley C. Collins of Ironton is opposed for the GOP nomination by Rossier S. Williams of Oak Hill, but Democrats lack a candidate in the district.

Incumbent Democrats Charles J. Carney and Stephen R. Olenick, both of Youngstown, are in a three-way race for two nominations in the 23rd District composed of Trumbull and Mahoning counties. Republicans have only one candidate in the district that usually goes Democratic.

Nineteen incumbent Republican senators and 11 Democratic incumbents seek re-election. Politicians generally give incumbents an edge in election contests.

On the House side, 89 Republican and 27 Democratic incumbents seek another term. Democrats lack candidates for a total of 19 House seats, giving Republicans that much of a head start.

Veteran legislators said that 50 so-called rural counties have elected Republicans consistently for the past decade.

One Of Pair Held In Slaying Ruled Insane

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Darrell F. Smith, 23, of Cincinnati, one of two men charged with the sidewalk slaying of Mrs. Mary Ellen Barger, 20, has been found "legally insane."

That was the word received here Tuesday by Butler County prosecutor Jackson Bosch from the Lima State Hospital where Smith and his companion, Lloyd Luther White Jr., 22, of Denver, Colo., have been under examination.

Bosch said the hospital report was that White "is legally sane."

The two men are accused of having shot Mrs. Barger, a young mother, on a Hamilton street last Nov. 28. They are under indictment on charges of first degree murder, attempted kidnapping resulting in death, and murder while attempting rape.

Bosch said steps will be taken to have both men returned here immediately. It will be up to Judge P. P. Boli to determine whether Smith should be placed on trial. Bosch said the case against White would be prosecuted immediately.

Smith and White were arrested in Orlando, Fla., several weeks after the shooting of Mrs. Barger. Police have said White admitted the shooting but claimed it was accidental and occurred while he was trying to get her into an automobile driven by Smith.

To Arraign Worker For Shooting Woman

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The FBI said M. C. Graham, 37, an Albany steelworker, will be arraigned today for an assault on Minnie L. Dunigan at the Veterans Hospital in Albany.

Authorities at Albany said Graham shot Miss Dunigan as she sat in the hospital parking lot. She suffered a compound fracture of the right leg, which later was amputated.

Police said he had been arrested previously for an assault on the same woman.

The FBI said Graham was hiding in the home of a cousin when agents arrested him Tuesday.

School Bus Driver Guilty Of Passing 2nd School Bus

CINCINNATI (AP)—The school bus driver who was arrested recently for driving his school bus past another halted school bus was convicted last night by Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cockerill.

Magistrate Cockerill fined Harry Williamson, 65, the driver, court costs for passing the bus but remitted them.

Williamson claimed the driver of the halted bus signaled him to pass but the other driver did not appear as a witness.

County Patrolman Bernard Henson, said he saw Williamson drive his bus past the other vehicle but did not see any signal given for him to pass.

DiSalle Raps 'Special Interest' Lobbyists

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio—Special interests should be stopped from setting various segments of Ohio's economy against one another, says Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic candidate for gubernatorial nomination.

DiSalle, on a radio program here Tuesday, said special interest lobbyists "have tried to array cities against villages, urban areas against rural, labor against management, farmer against city worker."

He did not identify the special interests who he said are thwarting Ohio's progress by serving themselves "to the detriment of the general welfare."

River To Crest 2½ Feet Over Flood Stage Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Scioto River was expected to crest 2½ feet above the 14-foot flood stage at Piketon today, the Weather Bureau reported.

Earlier, the bureau predicted the crest would come last night.

The rain-swollen river, which has flooded only lowlands so far, Tuesday crested two feet below the 16-foot flood stage at Chillicothe and 1½ feet above the 14-foot flood stage at Circleville.

Ribbons Awarded, Tour Set At Salem Garden Club Session

Ribbons for prize-winning arrangements were awarded, a book was reviewed and a discussion on conservation was continued when the Salem Garden Club met Monday at Ruth Smucker House.

Receiving ribbons were: mantle, Mrs. George F. Jones, blue, and Mrs. Lozier Caplan, yellow; end table, Mrs. Jones, blue, and Mrs. Roy West, green; and coffee table, Mrs. V. R. Horning, red.

The book, "House Plants for Every Window" by Dorothy Jenkins and Helen Van Pelt Wilson, was reviewed by Mrs. James Cross.

Fourth St. School PTA Fair Set

Plans were completed for the Fourth St. School PTA fair when chairmen of the exhibits committees met at the school Monday evening. The fair will be held Friday evening, March 9, at the school, "In Old Salem" is the theme.

Mrs. George Hawkins' committee will serve a lunch in the snack bar the members will set up in the gymnasium. Special prizes will include a wool blanket, lamps and electrical appliances which have been donated to the school. Mrs. Irving Painchaud, chairman, reported that there will be 15 special prizes.

Games have been arranged by Joe Fester and Mrs. Robert Hall. The "country store," headed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vincent, will be a preview of the city's sesquicentennial celebration. Mr. Vincent said his store will include "the old cracker barrel" and "a pot belled stove."

Mrs. Ray Dean and Mrs. Sherman Moore will be in charge of the bakery and candy shops. The old photography shop will have a display of views of early Salem, and Robert Kaminsky, the chairman, will set up a booth for individual pictures.

Mrs. Ralph Walton and her committee reported that they have many interesting "free samples" at their booth.

A hobby display will be arranged by Mr. and Mrs. James Roessler.

Louis Weirick reported that cartoons will be offered for the children in the movie room.

Damascus Rd. Couple Wed Fifty Years

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Zimmerman of the Damascus Road celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon. Sixty relatives and friends of the couple were guests at the affair held in the couple's home.

Willard Zimmerman and the former Florence Aiken were married Feb. 28, 1906 at the parsonage of St. Jacob Church. Rev. Beaver officiated. The couple have a son, Ernest of Canton, and three grandchildren.

A lace cloth covered the refreshment table that was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. The cake was decorated with yellow roses and topped with a yellow figure "50." Mrs. Clifford Aiken poured, and Mrs. Howard Whinnery registered the guests.

Many gifts and cards were received by the honorees. Out of town guests were from Canton, Akron and Columbiana.

Planning, Zoning To Be League Topic

City planning and zoning will be the discussion topics when members and guests of the League of Women Voters meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Public Library assembly room.

Mrs. W. Leeds Frye will be discussion leader, assisted by Mrs. Lloyd Gordon. Mr. A. P. Morris, chairman of the Salem Planning Commission, and Chester Kridler, commission member, will participate in the discussion.

Part one of the meeting will include an explanation of city planning; zoning in relation to planning; the need for planning and zoning in general; and examples of particular problems arising from zoning ordinances.

Part two will focus attention on city planning in Salem as it exists today, and what Salem may expect in the future. How the proposed comprehensive city plan will effect the existing status of properties in Salem will also be discussed. Guests will be welcome.

Miss Hazel Messer is feted at shower

A bridal doll dressed in white was placed on the luncheon table during the bridal shower honoring Miss Hazel Messer of Alliance, fiancée of Eugene Moss of Dixon, Ill., held Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Homer Messer of New Garden. Decorations followed a pink and white theme, and favors were miniature brides.

Contest prizes were won by Winifred Trupp and Miss Messer, Tagma Strahm of New Garden and Ruth Spidel of Hanoverton.

A lunch was served by Mrs. Messer to the 23 guests from New Garden, Alliance, Salem, Hanoverton, Guilford Lake and Louisville.

Merle Secrest, Bride Are Dinner Honorees

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Secrest of 1733 N. Ellsworth Ave. entertained at a dinner Sunday to honor their son, Merle, and his wife, the former Anna Faulk of Columbiana, who were married Thursday in Indiana. The new Mrs. Secrest is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Faulk of Columbiana.

After honeymooning in the eastern states, the couple are at home to their friends at 124½ Wilson St.

Four Leaf 4-Hers

The second meeting of the Four Leaf 4-Hers was held recently at the home of Polly Begalla, with Kathy Hrovatic presiding. Eighteen members answered roll call by naming "Ways to Improve 4-H Club Meetings."

It was decided to have secret sisters, and names were drawn. Two new members were taken into the club. The club participated in the heart fund drive Sunday.

The officers and advisors conferences will be held March 16 at United Local School and March 19 at Fairfield School. The devotional leader is Linda Carlson.

The next meeting will be March 1 at the home of Mrs. Ruth Hrovatic. Mrs. Vivian Faulkner will be hostess.

FOUR ON HONOR ROLL

Four Salem and area students at Mt. Union College have been placed on the scholastic honor roll during the initial semester of the school year.

The students are: Peter Ballantine, son of Mrs. O. H. Dilworth of 914 Franklin Ave., a sophomore; Robert Lofland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore M. Lofland of Salem, a senior; Delbert L. Breit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Breit of Berlin Center, a freshman; and Wayne Amos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert R. Amos of RD 1, Hanoverton, a senior.

Miss Barbara Durand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Durand of 195 W. 16th St. and a freshman at the College of Saint Teresa, Winona, Minn., is among the 75 students at the college named to the first semester honor roll. Miss Durand is a graduate of Nazareth Academy.

Active In Music School

Miss Dorothy Pozniko

Miss Dorothy Pozniko, daughter of Mrs. Mike Pozniko of the Albany Road, is active in musical presentations at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N.Y., where she is a senior.

Recent activities have been participation in a two piano recital performing Rachmaninoff's "Romance," and the presentation of two vocal solos, "Du Bist Wie Eine Blume," and "Do Not Go My Love." Miss Pozniko also accompanied voice students in a recital recently at Hochschule School of Music in Rochester.

Miss Pozniko, who was valedictorian in the Salem High School graduating class of 1952, will be graduated from Eastman School of Music in June with a bachelor of music degree with a major in piano.

Studying this year on a scholarship, Miss Pozniko's piano professor is Orazio Frugoni. Her voice teacher is LeRoy Morlock. Miss Pozniko, a soprano, studied voice in Salem with Mrs. Esther Odoran. Her piano teacher here was Miss Martha Krauss.

R. B. Keslar Feted On 84th Birthday

R. B. Keslar was honored recently at a party in celebration of his 84th birthday anniversary. The affair was held at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wassick of Columbiana. The birthday of Mrs. Bruce Keslar of Lisbon also was observed.

The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Keslar of Lisbon; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Keslar of Columbiana; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Keslar and children; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ray Keslar and daughters; Mrs. Margaret Keslar; Joan, Sharon and Diane Wassick, all of Leontonia.

A large decorated cake centered the luncheon table. The honoree received gifts from the guests.

Reilly School PTA Sets April Benefit

A benefit to be held in April was planned at Monday night's meeting of Reilly School Parent-Teacher Association in the assembly room at the school.

The program featured a sound movie, "Joe Turner - I'm an American." Refreshments were served at the social hour that followed. Hostesses were mothers of fifth graders. Mrs. Fred Schmidt and Mrs. Virgil Whinnery headed the committee comprised of Mrs. Ruth Hrovatic, Mrs. Dorothy Carliello, Mrs. George Hilliard, Mrs. Arthur Baddeley, Mrs. O. A. Naragon, Mrs. Horace Schwartz and Mrs. Mary Theiss.

The next PTA meeting will be March 19, a week earlier than usual, because of spring vacation.

Mrs. Curtis Vaughan Hostess To Salem Music Study Club

Twenty-three members and three guests were in attendance at the meeting of the Salem Music Study Club Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Curtis Vaughan of N. Union Ave.

The guests were Mrs. Henry Anderson and E. Gordon Warner of Columbiana and Mrs. Vaughan's mother, Mrs. Kennedy.

"The Best in Jazz" was the theme of the program. Mrs. Vaughan told about early jazz and how it progressed from New Orleans to Chicago. Then it spread to Detroit and New York City, given impetus by Benny Goodman and Duke Ellington.

Mrs. William Wright, accompanied by Mrs. Homer Taylor, played two trumpet solos, "Sweet Georgia Brown" and "When the Saints Go Marching In."

Mrs. Henry Anderson played and sang several selections. She was formerly a popular singer in Chicago.

"Boneyard Shuffle" and the 1914 "Twelfth Street Rag" were presented by Mr. and Mrs. E. Gordon Warner. Mrs. Warner accompanied her husband when he played his contra bass. They also played selections while refreshments were served.

Mrs. Vaughan used recordings to demonstrate the various kinds of jazz.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Vaughan and Mrs. Vesta King. "Sacred Music" will be the theme of the March 12 meeting at 2 p.m. at the Ruth Smucker House. Miss Hilda Frank and Mrs. Donald Dusenberry will be hostesses.

Goshen Union Club Holds 'Guest Night'

Guest night was observed when the Goshen Union Mothers Club met in the high school Monday evening with a large attendance.

Mrs. L. L. Root, president, opened the meeting, and announced that $318.07 was collected in the polo drive, which was sponsored by the club.

It was voted to set up an emergency fund, and it was decided to have an auction May 5 in conjunction with the Goshen Center Mothers Club. Mrs. Harold Wulf stressed the need for den mothers and parents to take an active part in the club scout work.

Mrs. Francis Sangree asked for viewpoints of having an adult educational program next year.

Mrs. Winston Smith sang "Without a Song," and "I'll Walk With God."

"How to Improve Family Relationships," was discussed by Rev. A. Laten Carter, pastor of Salem Presbyterian Church.

Lunch was served by mothers of the third graders, with Mrs. Albert Hanna, chairman.

The next meeting will be March 26 in the school.

Pack 8 Cubs Tour Ohio Bell Building

Smith Attacks Blasts at Dulles

Says Fulbright Ignored Secretary's Statement

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) today described as "completely indefensible" a Democratic claim that Secretary of State Dulles attempted to "deceive the American people about the deadly menace of Soviet Russia."

Smith charged in a prepared speech that Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) based his Senate attack Monday on "off the cuff statements" Dulles made under questioning by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Friday. Smith also said Fulbright "completely ignored a more complete statement" Dulles made in a Philadelphia address Sunday.

At his news conference Tuesday, Dulles stood firm on the position he took last Friday—that free world unity has forced a change in Soviet tactics. Democrats in the Senate have been contending they see no signs the Russians have been put on the defensive.

In his speech, Smith called for bipartisan backing of the President's "new and more flexible policy of economic aid" to countries being wooed by Russia in its current diplomatic, social and economic offensive.

The administration seeks long-range economic aid authority, but congressional leaders have indicated a reluctance to grant such powers except possibly on specific development projects.

Some Democrats have argued that Dulles' optimistic sizeup of conditions last Friday has undercut the administration's bid for such blanket aid authority.

Smith said, "I would not have been shocked if the senator from Arkansas differed in the appraisal of world facts from the position of the secretary."

But, he continued, to charge that Dulles "had actually misrepresented the facts to the American people, and to charge he would say one thing publicly, and an opposite thing privately, is to me completely indefensible."

Smith called Dulles a "great American statesman," and said all can agree "there never has been a secretary of state of higher integrity."

President

since the President has repeatedly spoken his high regard for the vice president.

Just before Eisenhower ended his 23-minute meeting with reporters, he said he never would have decided to seek re-election unless he thought he would live out the next five years.

That recalled his doctors' report on Feb. 15 saying the President appeared physically fit to serve "another 5 to 10 years" in a job like the presidency.

In the course of the conference, the newsmen fired many questions at Eisenhower regarding his decision. To several, he replied that he would withhold the answer until his TV-radio talk tonight.

But, responding to one question, Eisenhower said his decision to run should not have the effect of excluding any other candidates if they want to get into the race.

So far there has been only one announced conditional candidate for the GP nomination, Sen. William F. Knowland of California. And Knowland has said he would withdraw if Eisenhower decided to seek re-election.

Asked when he reached his momentous decision, Eisenhower touched off a laugh by saying he was still arguing with himself about it Tuesday morning.

At another point he said that maybe a half dozen persons were informed of the decision last evening after he had reached it. He did not name any of them.

Another question was whether he had made a decision regarding a

ICY SHIP IN ICY WATERS.—Ice is everywhere as a lone lookout scans the Antarctic waters. The ice-coated icebreaker USS Glacier was plowing through heavy seas on her way to McMurdo Sound in the Antarctic during "Operation Deepfreeze." The United States and seven other nations are in Antarctica trying to establish and maintain bases near the South Pole for the first time in history. "Operation Deepfreeze" has the double goal of implementing the U. second term before his September heart attack. With a chuckle, Eisenhower replied that is a secret he thinks he never will disclose, except possibly in his official papers after he has left the White House.

The news conference was held in the regular meeting place—the ornate Indian Treaty Room in the old State Department Building.

Hours before the 10:30 a.m. (EST) scheduled hour, newsmen were queuing up outside. The room accommodates 270 reporters while there are 773 who have White House credentials entitling them to attend presidential news conferences—if they can get in.

Eisenhower came into the room at 10:29 a.m. He was smiling as he entered with Press Secretary James C. Hagerty and Asst. Secretary Murray Snyder.

Please be seated, Eisenhower told the newsmen who always rise on his arrival. Then he launched into his eight minute tantalizing discussion of other matters before giving them word of the big question.

Decision

until he could report directly to the people tonight.

He was willing to run.

"My answer," he said, "will be positive—that is, affirmative."

Questions came quick and fast. Those Eisenhower wanted to answer he answered crisply and with a new vigor. Those he didn't want to answer he turned aside with a firmness almost curt at times.

His mood altered from moment to moment. He laughed when he said he was arguing about the second term decision as late as Tuesday morning.

He was self-deprecating in manner when he said the Democrats regarded him as honest even though some might think him stupid.

And he was stonily noncommittal about Vice President Nixon's characterization of Chief Justice Warren as a Republican in a recent speech praising GOP efforts to end race discrimination.

Eisenhower said he himself thought a man's political affiliation ended once he joined the Supreme Court.

In the prevailing tension several reporters made a false start for the door at one point before the conference actually ended with the traditional "Thank you, Mr. President."

When the rush for the door did come, it was like a thundering herd. Reporters battered their way through the throng to the opening doors, raced for telephone booths in the corridor outside.

"Flash!" "Bulletin!" The words went out with the speed of light by telephone, radio, television.

Farmers' Share Of Beef Dollar Shows Decline

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that the farmer got 62 cents of every dollar consumers spent for beef in 1955 as compared with 70 cents in 1949.

The difference between what the farmer gets and the consumer pays—called the "marketing margin"—represents the return to marketing agencies for their services.

The department said costs involved in the marketing process—such as labor, supplies and transportation—have risen substantially since the war.

Broadened Swim Program Planned Here

An attempt to create more interest in the city's swimming program and to increase participation among Salem youth and adults this summer is being planned by the city's superintendent of parks and recreation, Lee A. Burton.

Burton says that with public cooperation and heightened interest the pool program can be enlarged to provide a wider range of activities for a greater segment of the public.

In connection with this year's swimming program, the local Red Cross chapter will inaugurate a series of water safety aide training classes. The sessions will begin Tuesday, March 13, at the Alliance YMCA for Salem youth and adults interested in later signing up for instructor work as aides at the Centennial Park swimming pool.

The classes, to be sponsored by the local Red Cross, will be under the direction of Earl Ware, Red Cross water safety chairman, and will be held March 13, March 20, March 27 and April 3. Lessons will be held from 6:30 to 7:30 on meeting nights and transportation for enrollees in the class will leave the Memorial Building at 5:30 p.m. each class night.

The park swimming program this year will be a joint project of the Red Cross water safety division and the Salem Park Commission, according to park officials.

Graduates of the water safety aide course will be eligible to instruct but will not be qualified to certify any person as an instructor. Also, to be eligible for the course the prospective enrollee must have completed a course in senior lifesaving.

Registration for the course begins today and interested persons may call Ware at ED 2-5446 before 5 p.m. and at ED 7-6864 after 6 p.m.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the difficult jobs of house-keeping is to wax linoleum and asphalt tile floors. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it's no longer necessary of wax and scrub; just apply Glaxo about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non-slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor.

Lausche Happy At Decision By Ike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche, a Democrat, said today he was happy to learn of President Eisenhower's decision to seek re-election.

A prepared statement released from his office said:

"The people of the country undoubtedly are happy, and so am I, to learn that the President finds, and the doctors confirm, that his state of health will make it possible for him to be a candidate for the Presidency.

"He has had and will continue to have, the prayers and good wishes of the citizenry. He is worthy of them.

"My plans are not changed. On the 'Meet the Press' program in which I participated on Jan. 8, 1956, I stated:

"I'm not seeking the office of the President of the United States. I have allowed my name to be used as favorite son of Ohio for the purpose of having Ohio delegates in a position where they could be pledged to someone.

"I know my limitation and I want to say to you that I am not going to look for the stars, grasping into the limitless space while my feet are stumbling in the pitfalls of the office which I now have to administer."

Former President Of Philippines Dies

MANILA, Philippines (AP)—Former President Elpidio Quirino died at his home today at the age of 65, the presidential press office announced. The former President had been suffering from high blood pressure.

Quirino died at 6 p.m., at his home outside Manila. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Victoria Gonzales and a son, Tomas Quirino.

Quirino assumed the presidency upon the death of President Manuel Roxas in 1948 when the republic was but 21 months old.

Dr. Rumreich Unpaid For 60-Day Period

LISBON — Dr. A. S. Rumreich of Hawthorne, N.J., who was relieved of his post as county health commissioner Dec. 7 by the County Board of Health, has not received compensation for the 60-day period after his dismissal, records in the office of County Auditor Irvin J. Vondran reveals.

The terms of Dr. Rumreich's contract with the health board specified he was to be given a 60-day notice prior to termination of the contract.

Inquiries disclosed Dr. Rumreich had moved from his last place of residence here last week without leaving a forwarding address. He continues to keep a box at the local post office, however.

Eight applications for the position of county health commissioner have been received by the County Board of Health, and all have been referred to Dr. T. A. King of Columbiana, a member of the health board, for review. Dr. King did not attend the last meeting of the board.

At the last meeting of the health board it was reported that no time limit had been set for the engagement of a successor to Dr. Rumreich.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

I have just returned from Pennsylvania where I saw pickets walk wearily around Westinghouse plants but, by decree of the governor's mansion, I saw no strike.

Officially, there is no Westinghouse strike in that commonwealth. Officially there hasn't been a strike since Dec. 19, last.

Not that this longest major walk-out in history is over. The State of Pennsylvania merely says that Jim Carey's union is not striking Westinghouse but that the electrical corporation locked its doors to the 23,000 members there of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

The State of Pennsylvania, under labor's political ally and friend, Gov. George Leader, says this is not a strike but a lockout. That means that the Pennsylvania Bureau of Unemployment Compensation can pay the non-workers $35 a week relief.

THIS TAKES a terrific load off the hard-hit union. It will help the non-workers stay "locked out" for months more.

It sets a precedent which makes all other precedents in this field look like men in high-buttoned shoes. It shows graphically why labor is in politics.

This is what happened:

After months of strife, the governors of Pennsylvania and New York, Leader and Averell Harriman, offered a peace formula. They suggested that the union and the company agree that the strikers go back to work and the issues be arbitrated. The union agreed to the proposal of their good friends, the ardently pro-labor governors. The company rejected the formula on Dec. 19.

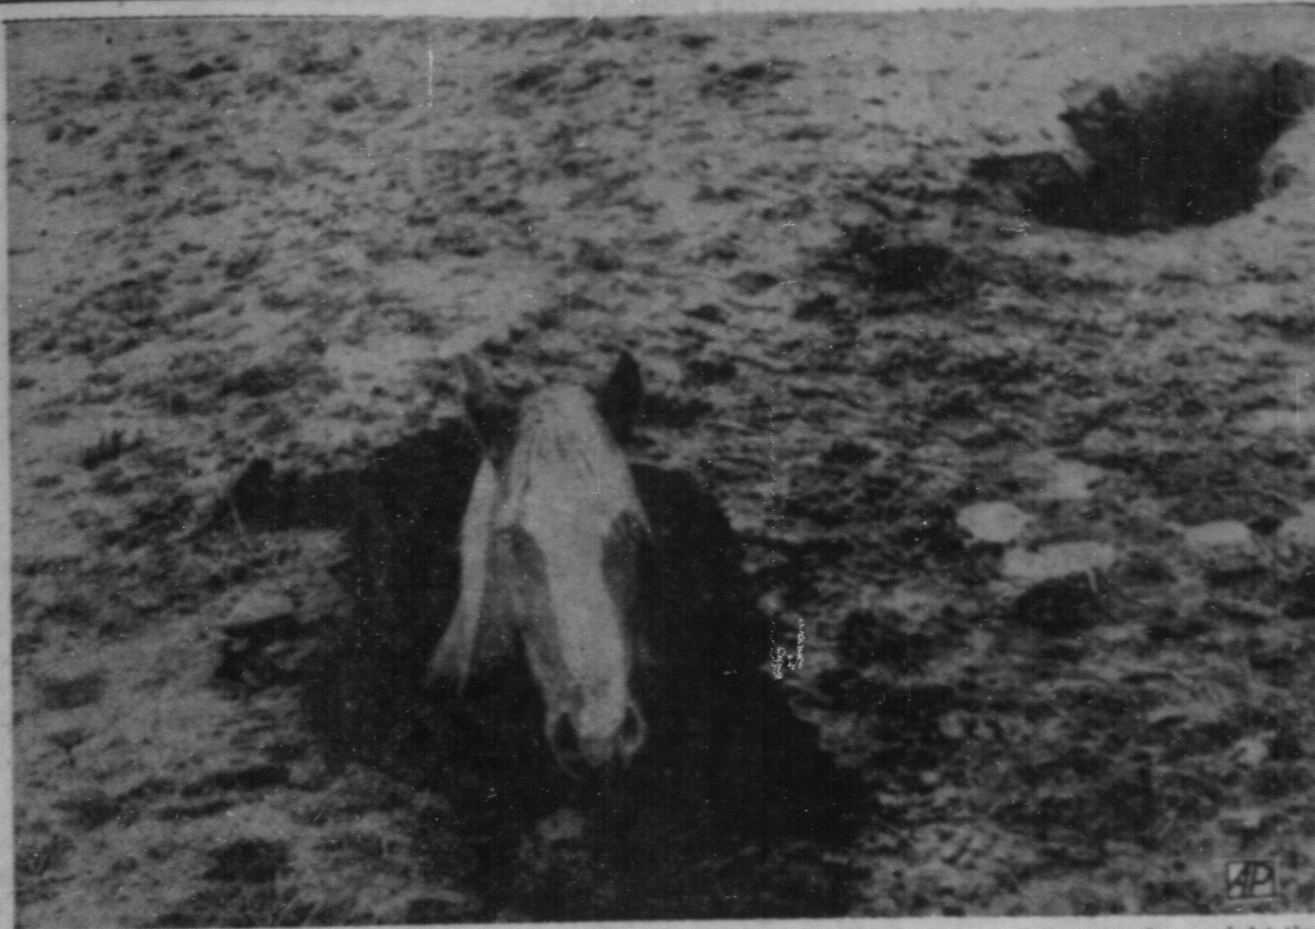

The State of Pennsylvania then ruled that, as of that date there no longer was a strike.

ACTING THROUGH State Labor Secretary John R. Torquato, the Leader administration announced that the Westinghouse dispute was a "lockout." This meant that the strikers were eligible for unemployment insurance.

The company charged this was "an unfortunate political ruling." Corporation officials there appealed the decision in an effort to reverse it.

The union retorted that this was "definite verification of our continued charge that Westinghouse is trying to starve the strikers into defeat."

The union has moved for similar action in Ohio. It has called on the ARABIAN'S NIGHTMARE. — Ginger, an Arabian mare owned by Doris Crow, made a night-time misstep and at Pendleton, Ore., looks sadly from hole into which she dropped. The hole in ranch field is one of many in area, caused by heavy rains washing out soil underneath. Ginger was dug out unhurt.

Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation to declare the four-month stoppage a lockout instead of a strike. This would make the Ohio non-workers of Westinghouse eligible for jobless relief payments also.

If this is approved by James

Tichebor, director of the Ohio Unemployment Compensation Bureau, then most of the strikers will be receiving relief equivalent to about half their take-home pay.

THE NEW YORK strikers have been getting up to $36 a week from the state for some time now. New York is the only state which pays unemployment benefits to strikers. This is permitted under a unique law after the men have been out seven weeks. Most of the New York strikers are in Buffalo where 3,500 are out.

The battle over Gov. Leader's action in Pennsylvania is as intense as the feuding over the major conflict. This war within a war appears to be of even greater importance than the issues of the strike itself.

If the Pennsylvania ruling stands and spreads to other states, labor's power to strike will be heavily increased, for it takes the relief load off the union and saves it millions of dollars. The labor people say, why not, it keeps the men and their families from need.

The company and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce charge that this is political pressure of the "worst kind."

INDUSTRIALISTS everywhere are saying that this means "compulsory arbitration" forced by a pro-labor governor.

Whatever happens, one thing is certain: Labor will intensify its political activity on the state level from now on. To give the state organizations complete leeway, AFL-CIO president George Meany, who is also chairman of the Committee on Political Education (COPE), has decided that no nominations or endorsements will be made in COPE's national office, but that the regional labor units will make their own decisions.

That decision will mean throwing everything into campaigns to get more governors like Pennsylvania's George Leader into office.

February 29th

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Magic rides this morning.

This is the 29th of February, the holiday of witches.

Graciousness rides this day and lights all people born upon it who have a birthday only every four years.

But the 29th of February is also the reverse of Halloween. Witches don't zoom off into the yonder; they brake their brooms downward and become part of the party.

Typical witch talk at an earth party:

First witch (elderly): "Oh, I say the crowd sure has gone downhill since Shakespeare wrote about us, I must say."

Second witch (middle-aged): "You couldn't be more right, dearie. Ever since I lost my late husband (the poor-devil) I've felt so. What's that, sir, are you in real estate, too? How unexpected. May I offer a suggestion on your new tenant rates?"

Third witch (young): "So many overpowering young men. What they see in me I really don't know or do I? Why of course, young man, I will dance with you. What is the rhythm, the polka, the turkey trot, or the rumba. Oh, the waltz? The waltz any witch from any time remembers. Never mind leading me, I'll lead you — 'da-da-da-da' — how can one forget it? — 'da-da-da-da' — won't it go on forever?"

The music goes on and on as if it would never stop, and the first witch finally says:

"Listen, girls, we are losing our sense of social responsibility. At least under Shakespeare we knew where the best pot we could cast an asp into was coming from."

"Oh, don't be so professional," sighs the second witch, who was working into a fast early century fox trot. "I've just got my date at the point where he is telling me the sad story of his wife."

The music changes, switches to

Quakers To Meet Tough Sand Valley In Tourney Tonight

Greensburg Falls By 79-53 Score

Alliance Rips Lisbon, Minerva Advances

By CARL NADRASY
Coach John Cabas' Salem Quakers will be meeting a rough, tough Sand Valley quintet tonight at 8:45, as a result of the Cardinals' victory in the first round of play in the Alliance sectional tourney last night.

The Cardinals' victory came in the opening game of the tourney in the Stanton Junior High Field House, in a triple opening round tilt that also saw Minerva upset Middlebranch 59-50 and Alliance trounce Lisbon 78-37.

Appearing on the second round card tonight along with Salem and Sand Valley will be the contest between North Canton and East Canton, both drawing byes in the first round, at 7:15 p.m. The losses last night by Lisbon, Middlebranch and Greensburg eliminated them from the playoffs in the "win or out" setup.

In the opening contest last night, the Bulldogs from Greensburg gave the Sand Valley quintet a close game for three periods but faltered in the final stanza.

The Cardinals broke out to an early 16-11 first period lead and were never headed, although the Greensburg five drove to a two-point deficit at intermission, 31-29. In the third frame the Cardinals pulled away again 47-39, and really poured it on in the last quarter to take the 26-point win.

The Sand Valley squad displayed a well-rounded attack as five men scored in double figures. Forward Roger Faigley, 6-2, paced the winners with 24 points. Also in double figures were forward John Lewis with 16 points, guard Frank Mastroianni with 12, and centers Ed Ropes and Jim Sampsel with 10 each. Guard Bill Crumrine led the team with 25 markers for Greensburg.

In the closest game of the evening Minerva won over Middlebranch 59-50. The two teams battled to a 10-10 deadlock in the opening period and in the second frame Middlebranch took the lead 18-26.

Minerva battled back in the third period and outscored their opponents 18-9 for a 44-37 edge going into the final stanza.

Minerva also out-manuevered Middlebranch in the final period 5-13 and won the tilt easily 59-50. Ronnie Criss was the high scorer for the winners with 28 points and Bill McCully followed with 11 allies.

Minerva will now move into the semi-finals where they will meet the Tri-County champs, Louisville Thursday at 8:45.

Last night's finale saw a very talented Alliance Aviator team humiliate the Lisbon Blue Devils to send the Aviators into the semi-final round Thursday night against Sebring at 7 p.m.

The Lisbon squad was extremely hampered by the limited services of their star center, George Ramsey, and could not cope with the devastating Alliance offensive and defensive game. Ramsey, who recently was named to the Tri-County all-star first team, could not maneuver on his sprained ankle re-injured in practice during scrimmage last Wednesday afternoon and failed to score a point during the short time he appeared in the contest.

The Blue Devils started the game by employing stalling tactics to amper the high-scoring Alliance attack, but the plan backfired on coach Jack Mills' boys as Alliance scored the first four times they hit the ball for an early 8-2 lead. Alliance completely dominated lay throughout the first half to take a commanding 41-12 intermission margin. With Lisbon having difficulty getting the ball up the court against the Aviator man-to-man defense, the winners took the contest with ease.

The outcome of the game was evident after the first half and both paches employed a large number of subs. Alliance center Tom chaefer accounted for 22 points and lead his team. Guard Ted Davison was also high for the winners with 17 markers. Guard Bob Early as high scorer for Lisbon with 11 points.

Middletown Basketball Coach To Be Speaker At Cage Banquet Here

Paul Walker, head basketball coach at Middletown High School and winner of three state Class A championships within the last eight years, has been named main speaker at the Booster Club's annual basketball banquet scheduled for April 7.

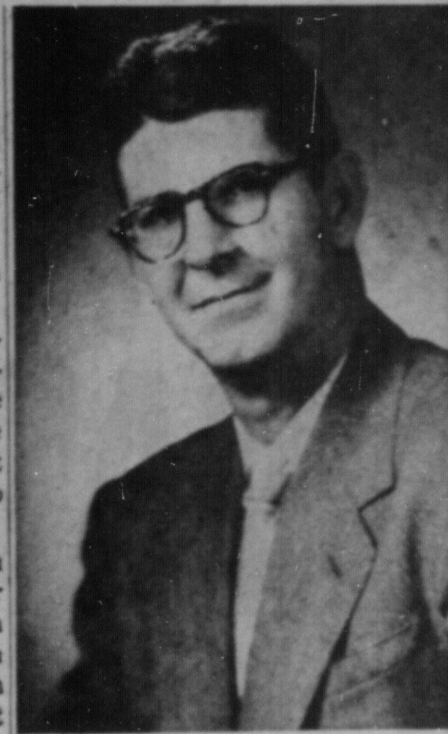

Walker, a graduate of Western Kentucky College in 1935, has established an enviable record during his past 21 years of coaching. In addition to coaching three Ohio Class A champion teams, he has also tutored eight district champions in the southwestern Ohio district in the last 10 years.

He began his coaching career in Kentucky, where he remained for his first nine years as a high school mentor. His 10th and 11th years were spent at Portsmouth High School in Ohio, and his last 10 at the helm of the Middletown Middies.

The Middletown coaches' first state championship came in 1947, which was, incidentally, the same year Salem Coach John Cabas' Columbiana Clippers took the Class B state crown. The Middies also took the laurels in 1952 and 1953 while Walker was at the guidepost.

While heading the Middies, Walker has posted an 186 won-38 lost record over the 10-year span. This year the Middies have led the state's Associated Press poll of sportswriters every week since its start early in the season, and were placed in first place in the final poll this week with a total of 347 points and 20 first place votes. To date, the Middies have a 20-0 record and are favorites to cop the 1936 crown.

Coach Walker served as president of the Ohio Basketball Coaches Association in 1947, the same year in which Coach Cabas was serving as the organization's vice president.

He has been coach of the Ohio High School All-Star cage team for the past nine years. Walker annually sends this outstanding group of stars of Ohio high school players against the top Kentucky High School cage players for the two-state championship.

Walker has also been featured in basketball clinics in such cities as Pittsburgh, New York, Louisville, Ky., Bowling Green, Ky., Columbus, Cincinnati, Smithville and Cleveland.

Tickets for the banquet are already on sale at Heddietson's Drug Store and Fishers News Agency downtown, and can be obtained from any Booster Club member.

Dons Capture 48th In Row

Trounce College Of Pacific In 'Scrimmage'

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Coach Phil Woolpert, whose San Francisco Dons have topped the Associated Press college basketball poll all season, must have been looking at five other guys when he got the idea his regulars might be getting stale.

He let them kick up their heels for a change Tuesday night and the Dons frolicked in an 87-49 run-away against College of the Pacific — locking up their second straight California Basketball Association title and gaining official entry to the NCAA Tournament for defense of their national championship.

It was San Francisco's 48th consecutive triumph and the 54th in 55 starts, and the school immediately claimed an all-time college record.

The NCAA recognizes a 55-game streak by little Peru (Neb.) State Teachers in the mid-20s as the all-time record. But Dick Blake, Dons' publicity man, said he has a letter from A. G. Wheeler, Peru athletic director, stating the record was against Nebraska teams only and did not represent consecutive victories against all opponents.

Wheeler told The Associated Press, however, that he had no way of knowing for sure whether Peru played outstate teams in the streak—which, he added, he found to be 54 games, not 55.

Woolpert, who has found the winning streak monotonous, announced he would consider the last four games of the regular season as "scrimmages" in way of a warm up for the opening NCAA tourney game against the Pacific Coast Conference champ (probably UCLA, the last team to beat the Dons).

So, instead of pulling his regulars early, he let them romp at will against COP. All America Bill Russel, the 6-10 center, promptly banged in 28 points while playing all but 2½ minutes.

Elsewhere, Southern Methodist became the first team to sweep through the Southwest Conference unbeaten since Texas did it in 1947. An 89-75 romp against Rice did it for the Mustangs, who had sewed up their second straight league crown Saturday.

Texas Tech, though idle, loomed as SMU's probable opening foe in the NCAA as West Texas upset Texas Western 80-79. That left Tech all alone atop the Border Conference and with a chance to clinch the title and NCAA berth against New Mexico A&M tonight.

George Washington, warming up for its bid for a title and NCAA entry in the Southern Conference tournament which opens Thursday, clipped Georgetown 37-27, although ace Joe Holup was held to 12 points.

16 Promoters Seek Monday Night Fights

NEW YORK (AP)—Sixteen would-be promoters vied for the Monday night fight television plum today following the commission-enforced closing down of the London Sporting Club.

The State Athletic Commission gave the boot Tuesday to the club, president and matchmaker Tex Sullivan, and former treasurer Willie Gilzenberg, by revoking the licenses of all and fining the club and Gilzenberg $5,000 each. They were found guilty of eight of nine charges made by the commission. The other charge, that of consorting with criminals, was dismissed for lack of "sufficient, competent legal evidence."

The action against the London S. C. Sullivan and Gilzenberg is effective March 6. They have one more fight to promote.

Chicago White Sox Farm System Begins To Pay

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The long process of developing a farm system is beginning to pay off dividends for the Chicago White Sox.

No fewer than 13 of the 43 players on the Sox roster are products of White Sox farms and the number could be upped to 15 with a stretch of the imagination.

Pitchers Dixie Howell and Paul Stuffle both came up from Memphis but they got their start elsewhere.

Pitcher Connie Johnson and first baseman Ron Jackson are better known Sox products.

Oldest Rookie Seeks Berth At Milwaukee

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Better late than never sums up the major league life-begins-at-33 story of righthander John "Red" Murrif of the Milwaukee Braves—the oldest rookie in the majors.

"I had just about given up hope of playing in the majors," said the Braves' $40,000 purchase today. "When you get my age in the minors, the scouts don't give you a tumble unless you knock their eyes out."

Murrif did just that last year with Dallas, leading the Texas League in victories with 27, innings pitched with 303 and earned run averages with 1.99.

The Giants had first rights to the 6-3, 195-pound Texan, but passed him up.

The righthander didn't play baseball until he was 21, didn't break into pro ball until he was 28, and didn't make up his mind to become a pitcher until he was 29.

A scout convinced him there was money in baseball so in 1950 at the age of 28 he joined Baton Rouge, La., in the Class C Evangeline League. Dividing his time between the outfield and the mound, Murrif batted .331 and won 17 and lost 4.

At Nashville the following year Murrif split two decisions before a sore shoulder cut short his stay there.

The following season he won 23 with Tyler in the Gulf Coast League. Murrif then moved up to Dallas and in three years won 54 and lost 39.

Favor Michigan In Big 10 Track

4 Titalists Return; Golliday Seeks Record

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Defending champion Michigan will be the team to chase here Friday and Saturday in the 46th annual running of the Big Ten Conference indoor track meet.

Michigan's talented tracksters have four titlists returning in 5 of the 15 events.

Middle distance star Pete Gray was a double winner, copping both the 880 and 1,000 yard runs. Don Wallingford ran off with the two mile run. Dave Owen took the shot put and mark Booth shared the high jump.

So far this season, Big Ten records show, Michigan has the top mark in six of the events and placed 11 men among the five best in each event.

Indiana and Iowa threaten with team strength, each with three top performances and each placing 15 and 14 men respectively in the "five best" category.

Indiana's Cal Boyd shared the high jump mark last year with Booth. Indiana also has two holdovers from the 1935 championship mile relay team, but a Michigan foursome already has bettered the existing conference record.

A sure bet for a sensational performance is Jim Golliday of Northwestern. Golliday claimed a world mark after his even six second time in the 60 yard dash last week. If he can repeat, Golliday will shatter the .06.1 Big Ten record first set by the great Jesse Owens of Ohio State in 1935 and duplicated by Sam Stoller of Michigan in 1936.

Preliminaries of the meet will be run Friday night and the finals Saturday afternoon.

Univ. Of Washington Signs New Coach

SEATTLE (AP)—University of Washington football followers, who seldom have to really get acquainted with the school's latest coach, were rolling a new name over their tongues today.

This time it is Darrell Royal, coach at Mississippi State, and thus far the reception has been good.

But nobody kicked—at least publicly—when Johnny Cherberg got the job a few short years ago. Or Howie Odell or Pest Welch or Jimmie Phelan. Suffice it to say, there has been a long parade, a rapid turnover and a lot of accompanying friction.

Cherberg was subjected to a full-fledged revolt by a majority of his players.

The football players, including the revolting ones, all sounded pleased.

Royal seems to be right welcome right now. But, as we said before, he was Cherberg and Odell and Welch, etc.

Holman 2-1 Favorite Over Rowan Tonight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—John Holman of Chicago, the fourth-ranking heavyweight, is a 2-1 favorite to whip Joe Rowan of Philadelphia in a nationally televised 10-round fight tonight.

Holman's recent victims include Bob Satterfield, Ezzard Charles and Boardwalk Billy Smith.

Rowan, 21, has lost only to Willie Pastrano in his last nine outings. He has lost seven in 35 fights.

Holman is expected to scale about 205, some 20 more than his young opponent.

ABC will broadcast and telecast at 9 p.m. CST.

Tribe To Play Intrasquad Game On Thursday

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Manager Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians plans the first intrasquad game Thursday.

"We'll let the kids play," Lopez said. "That's the best way to size 'em up anyway."

The Indians infirmary has its patient Al Smith. He had a wisdom tooth and two molars extracted.

Carli Edges Strouss 77-76 In 1st A Playoff

In the first game in the final playoffs for the Class A championship, Carli Lumber came from behind in the final period to down a determined Strouss - Hirschberg five 77-76.

Superior Wallpaper nipped FOE in another thriller 60-59 in Class B play.

The Republicans won their first game in the Girls League tourney over Lisbon by a forfeit and Gordon Sports won by a forfeit over the Damascus Merchants. This loss by forfeit puts Damascus out of the league because they have forfeited three games.

In the opening frame of the Class A tilt Strouss and Carli Lumber battled to a 22-22 deadlock, but in the second period Carli Lumber outpointed Strouss 22-14 and at the halfway point Carli Lumber held the edge 44-38. Strouss came fighting back in the third stanza and stopped Carli 27-14 to take the lead going into the final period 63-58.

Carli Lumber was not to be beaten however as they blasted Strouss in the last quarter 21-13 and won the tilt by a slim 1 point margin 77-76.

Grimm Has Encouraging Words For Bearden

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Manager Charlie Grimm today had some encouraging words for Gene Bearden, the veteran lefthander who is working out with the Milwaukee Braves on a trial basis.

"He could really help us in the bullpen," Grimm said. "We're going to give him every chance to make the club."

The 35-year-old knuckleball specialist, who led the Cleveland Indians to the world's championship in 1948, was purchased conditionally from San Francisco for the Braves' Wichita farm team. If he makes the grade, the Braves will keep him.

victors as he tossed in 32 points and Bill Yeomans was second with 19 tallies. Bob Payer was again high for the Strouss five with 30 markers and Jerry Mounts followed with 14.

The second game in this series will be played tonight at 8.

In the only other game played Superior Wallpaper came back in the final period to win over the FOE 60-59. The two teams fought to a 17-17 first period tie, but FOE outpointed their foe 20-14 in the second period and at the intermission FOE held a 37-31 margin.

Superior slightly outscored FOE 14-13 and going into the final period FOE was hanging on to a 50-45 lead. In the final period, however Superior slowly caught up to their opponents and with less than a minute to play the score read 58-58. Lani Waiwaiho hooped a foul to put FOE in front 59-58, but Rabi Hippiely of Superior was fouled and made good two shots which clinched the Superior win 60-59.

Hippiely also was the big gun in the Superior scoring machine as he tallied 21 points. Bill Edgerton was second for Superior with 16 and Bill Baker added 10. Jim Shearer was high for FOE with 25 points and Luke Phillips followed up with 13.

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Manager Charlie Grimm today had some encouraging words for Gene Bearden, the veteran lefthander who is working out with the Milwaukee Braves on a trial basis.

"He could really help us in the bullpen," Grimm said. "We're going to give him every chance to make the club."

The 35-year-old knuckleball specialist, who led the Cleveland Indians to the world's championship in 1948, was purchased conditionally from San Francisco for the Braves' Wichita farm team. If he makes the grade, the Braves will keep him.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By R. I. LIDE

The story in this column last week regarding the importation of Texas bobcats to Trumbull County and released into the wilds, has been traced down. Not just two bobcats were brought in but six.

A West Mecca tavern owner has them securely in a cage where they belong. Next best place would be six feet under the ground. Anyone interested in wildcats would do well to visit this spot and see the marked difference between a bobcat and a large wild housecat. There is no closed season on bobcats in Ohio but it is doubtful if many exist.

The possibility of a bobcat showing up in this county is not beyond doubt. Pennsylvania and West Virginia have them and there could be a stray showing up in the rough section of our county.

I received an interesting letter from William Falk of Salem. He says he has hunted for 33 years and still enjoys it. He also mentions the misconduct of a couple of hunters during the past season which caused one farmer to close his farm to all hunting from here on in. The other farmer tolerated the contempt shown him by an arrogant hunter but decided that for the sake of the good sportsmen he would not close his lands.

Now, Bill says, he is willing to hang up his guns and take up bird watching. Even then he says he is afraid he might be reprimanded for trespassing.

My comments are: I would never quit hunting on account of the misbehavior of a few misguided hunters. Instead, I would hunt for the time being and go to the farmer's house and let him know what was going on. A call to the game protector's home will place him on the scene as soon as possible.

All game protectors are equipped with two-way communications in their cars and can be reached in a matter of minutes. All hunters should assist the game protector so the person causing all the trouble can be removed from the field and brought in to the nearest court of justice. Not only will the individual be subject to a stiff fine but his license can be revoked for the rest of the year.

AN INTERESTING news release by the Ohio Division of Wildlife states that Little Beaver Creek will be stocked with walleye pike this year.

The stocking will be done with walleye fry up in the thousands. It remains to be seen what happens after the stocking has been made. One thing is sure, there are thousands of stone rollers and suckers as well as other types of minnows in abundance that will be the source of a plentiful food supply.

A few walleyes have been taken in Little Beaver that no doubt found their way up the creek from the Ohio River.

In the meantime it would be a good thing if all this unnecessary dumping of rubbish in the creek was stopped.

I don't believe this is being done by fishermen who know better. People who do not know any better should be taught not to clutter up the stream, either by an educational campaign or else let the strong arm of the law get busy.

So here goes the little ditty for today:

"Bait-caster, fly-caster, poor fisherman, Fished all day, caught one tin can."

Garcia Denies Talk 'Big 3' Cracking Up

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Those reports about the "big three" of the Cleveland pitching staff cracking up are "a lot of hokey," the way Mike Garcia sees it.

"That's just stuff they make up to write," the big righthander scoffed.

"Sure, I know they say we're getting too old," Garcia said. "But I think Early (Wynn), Bob (Lemon) and myself have a lot of good pitching years left."

At 32, Garcia is the youngest member of the Tribe's big three, a combination that has won 497 American League pitching victories. Lemon will be 36 in September and Wynn has been 36 since January.

Last season Garcia had his first losing year since he broke into professional baseball in 1942. He won 11 and lost 13 in 1955.

"Anyone can have a bad year," he said.

"This summer I'm going to be working all the harder. I'll be working harder every time I go out to pitch."

Wynn was 17-11 last year and Lemon 18-10.

Salem Hunting Club To Meet on Thursday

The March meeting of the Salem Hunting Club will be held on Thursday at 8 p.m. at the clubhouse, according to club secretary Don Cannon.

The agenda will include a discussion on spring and summer activities and nominations for 1956 officers.

A movie will be shown and a lunch served. All members are urged to attend.

Columbiana Scout Troop Receives Annual Charter

COLUMBIANA — Robert Maurer, president of the Columbiana County Boy Scout Council, made the annual presentation of the charter to Troop 18, Boy Scouts, sponsored by Firestone American Legion Post, at the meeting of the post Monday evening. The charter was received by Post Commander Charles James.

Columbiana County Commander John Rippeth of East Liverpool was present and made the annual inspection of Firestone Post. He announced the Columbiana county birthday banquet of the Legion to be held in Lisbon, Monday evening, March 19, when Milo Warner of Toledo, past national commander, will be the speaker.

John Ellis will be the new custodian of the Legion home on N. Pearl St., in place of Willard Zellers, who resigned. The post membership remains at 265, two less than last year.

Commander James has not completed his list of committees for the annual street fair and homecoming Sept. 6, 7 and 8.

CHARLES SCHELL of East Liverpool, lieutenant governor of the 15th Ohio Division of Kiwanis International, paid an official visit to the Columbiana club at Heck's Restaurant Monday evening and was the speaker. Other visiting Kiwanians were Lee Myers of East Palestine, vice chairman of the 15th division council, and Loren Early of Lisbon.

Plans were discussed further for the club benefit supper at Dixon School from 4 to 8 p.m. Monday, March 12, the proceeds to be added to the club's underprivileged child fund.

After the meeting, club directors met at the home of Vice President Willard Ferrall, 144 Seventh St. Allan White, chairman of the Rotary Magazine committee of the Columbiana club, had charge of the meeting at Valley Golf Club, Monday evening, and talked on the value of the magazine to club members. He cited some special articles in one issue, and the monthly symposium which is a feature of one issue every month. Club members were urged to read the magazine.

Walter Schuck of Schuck Accounting Service, Union Bank Bldg., was welcomed as a new member, having resigned his membership in the Salem club since locating here.

T. V. Utterback of Fairfield School announced the annual 4-H club banquet, which will be held at Heck's Restaurant at 6:30 p.m. Monday, March 12, with Fairfield Ruritan Club participating. At this meeting, the annual Rotary memorial award honoring the memory of James Fitzpatrick, who gave his life during World War II, will be bestowed on the most outstanding 4-H member in Fairfield township.

MR. UTTERBACK also introduced Wilbur Roberts of the Columbiana county farm extension staff, and Robert Reash, Fairfield High School basketball coach.

BOY COMFORTS DAD.—Charles Austin, eight, tries to console his father, Everett W. Austin, at Westbrook, Me., Feb. 26. He looks back through tear-dimmed eyes at ruins of their fire-swept farmstead. Charles rescued a heifer only to see the fear-maddened animal fall and break a leg. The heifer had to be shot.

Dr. K. P. Murphy was appointed on-to-New Philadelphia chairman for the conference of the 23rd district, April 22-23. Members prepared envelopes for mailing in the annual Easter seal drive.

The annual trip of Columbiana, Fairfield and New Waterford seniors to the Firestone plant in Akron, sponsored by the club, will be made Monday, April 30.

Thomas Ferguson was a guest of his father, Alfred, at the meeting. Prospective blood donors may arrange appointments and transportation for the visit of the bloodmobile to Salem, Friday, by contacting Mrs. Walter Miller or Mrs. C. W. Dewalt.

Fred Koch, deputy registrar for Columbiana and vicinity, will begin tomorrow the sale of 1956 auto licenses at the Koch Motor Co., east of the public square. The office will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., except Saturdays, when it will close at noon.

Northeast district of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs will observe Legislation Day Wednesday, March 7 with an all-day meeting at Hartsville. Members of the Sororis Club may call Mrs. L. H. Nelson, 2-4644 by Friday for reservations.

Rev. W. S. Longworth of the Methodist Church will be the preacher at the community Lenten service in Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Calendar Lines Up In Numerical Order Sunday

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The calendar lines up in numerical order Sunday, something it hasn't done for 11 years and won't do again for 11 more.

Sunday's the fourth day of the third month. So the short-form date reads thus: 3-4-56. That hasn't happened since 2-3-45. It won't happen again until 4-5-67.

Farm Bureau Coop Open House Set

LISBON—The Columbiana County Farm Bureau Coop announced today open house would be observed at its Lisbon and Columbiana plants March 22-24.

The district unit, which is in charge of F. Whitney Ingraham, said that gifts, favors, and refreshments will be served, and that an orchestra would be featured Friday evening, March 23.

Doris Eganoff was hostess to the Jolly TV Club in her home Thursday evening when Martha Kale and Betty Noble were honored with stork showers.

Melvin Dickerson is a patient in the Alliance hospital where he was taken for observaton. Pythian Sisters will sponsor a dance at the hall Saturday when the caller for square dancing will be Lance Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Obenauf are spending time in Florida and other points of interest. Annabel Harrold and family were recent guests in the Jerd Oesch home.

Francis (Bing) Miller is a patient in the Salem City hospital where he was taken Friday evening after a pressure cooker blew up in his face. The Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet at the Methodist Church Thursday. The program leader will be Alene Klingeman and worship service will be in charge of Mildred Wilson. Hostesses will be Myrtle Oesch and Ann Fednia.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Early of Beloit and Nellie Early and Avon Early of Alliance were callers in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cook on Sunday.

Etta Baringer and Mrs. Thomas Frautz are vacationing in Florida.

Farm Bureau Delegates To Be Chosen

A district meeting of representatives of county Farm Bureau Co-operative Associations will be held at Talmadge, March 6 to select district representatives to attend a farm bureau federation meeting at Washington, D.C., March 13.

Among those from Columbiana County who will attend the meeting at Talmadge are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lowmiller, RD 2, Minerva; Mrs. A. C. Cope, New Waterford; Mr. and Mrs. Arlan Hoopes, RD 2, Beloit; Edward N. Kirk, RD 2, Columbiana, and F. W. Ingraham, manager of the Lisbon Farm Bureau unit, who said others may attend the session.

Persons attending the Washington meeting will visit with their congressmen to report on Ohio farm sentiment. Such district representatives will also visit the U.S. Department of Agriculture and meet with members of the house and senate agriculture committees, and attend a session of the Congress.

A breakfast has been planned for Wednesday, March 14, when the farm bureau spokesmen will have an opportunity to meet with the entire Ohio Congressional delegation.

Among the issues to be discussed at this meeting are the farm program, and the need for improved rural mail service and the expanded foreign trade.

Twenty-two meetings have been scheduled throughout Ohio by the Farm Bureau, March 1-9 to give farmers opportunity to inform their spokesmen before they go to Washington.

S. Carolina May Require Press Owners To File

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—The South Carolina House Judiciary Committee says it plans to introduce a bill that would require newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations to file a list of ownership sources with the secretary of state.

Said state Rep. Lake, a member of the committee: "The thinking of a lot of people is reflected by what they read and hear and in so many cases the editorial policies of a newspaper or other news media is set by outside or Northern interests which do not reflect the thinking of the Southern people."

Mahoning County 4-H Officer Nomination Set

Officer nominations for the 1956 Mahoning County 4-H Junior Leadership will be presented at a meeting Monday which will start at 8 p.m. in the North Lima School. Elections will be held at the April meeting.

Ralph Schrock will call square dances. For the box social, each girl is to bring a box with refreshments sufficient for two. These will be auctioned off by Ivan Baringer. Prizes will be given for the best decorated boxes. Beverage will be provided.

All 1955 junior leaders and prospective 1956 junior leaders nominated by their advisors are invited.

Tuesday Hottest Feb. 28 In Miami, Fla., History

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Tuesday was the hottest February 28 in Miami's history—85 degrees. The Weather Bureau reported it was 88 in Bayfront Park along the Miami waterfront and 89 degrees at Miami Beach.

KILLED BY BOX CAR
CINCINNATI (AP)—Gustave J. Eisele, 64, was run over and killed by a box car last night at the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad roundhouse here. He was a car inspector for the railroad.

A workman said Eisele was coupling the air hose on two box cars when one of them was hit by a coal car which had been cut loose from a locomotive.

Hillsboro Appeals Segregation Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Hillsboro, Ohio, Board of Education has asked the Supreme Court to approve its integration plans for Negro and white pupils.

A U. S. Court of Appeals in Ohio disagreed with a federal district judge that the board was acting in good faith in its integration plan. Legally, the board is appealing the Appellate Court's decision.

While Hillsboro has operated segregated schools for nearly 90 years, its junior and senior high schools are integrated and a few Negroes attend what were formerly all white elementary schools. Most Ohio public schools are integrated.

The school board said it planned to begin integration in Hillsboro by next September. The board said it temporarily had to assign a group of Negro children in a segregated school building.

This is the first case of its kind to reach the Supreme Court since that body's historic ruling on integrating school children. The Hillsboro board's action came Tuesday.

Playwright Held For Drunk Driving, Hit-Run

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Arrested on charges of drunk driving and hit-run, playwright Clifford Odets spent nine hours in jail waiting for bail.

Freed after posting $263 bond Tuesday, Odets faces Municipal Court arraignment on the misdemeanor charges next Monday. He gave his age as 46.

Police said Odets slammed his car into an unoccupied parked auto knocking it 45 feet and then drove off.

Mid-County Republican Club Will Hear Wetzel

LISBON — The regular monthly meeting of the Mid-County Republican Club will be held at the Pythian Hall Thursday evening, when State Representative Clarence I. Wetzel will be the guest speaker.

Marjorie Pannir, president of the organization said today that an immediate drive would be launched to increase enrollment of members. Coffee and doughnuts will be served at the close of the meeting.

ELECTED BY PHOTOGRAPHERS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Walter Troup of Canton was elected secretary of the Ohio Professional Photographers Assn. which ended its annual meeting Tuesday.

Celebrezze To Back Lausche's Choice

CLEVELAND (AP)—The mayor of Ohio's largest city says he is waiting for the word from Gov. Frank J. Lausche on which candidate to support for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Cleveland's Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze told the Cleveland Plain Dealer Tuesday:

"I'll go along with whatever the governor decides. We think pretty much alike."

Celebrezze had Lausche's support when he won election as an Independent Democrat candidate for mayor.

Four of the five Democratic candidates have sought Celebrezze's support. The mayor did not identify the one who had not, but a good guess is that it is former State Rep. Robert W. Reid, former Port Clinton who in his campaign has assailed Lausche as trying to destroy the Democratic party in Ohio in order to further his own ambition.

Of the other four candidates, one, Michael V. DiSalle, former Toledo mayor, has visited Celebrezze at City Hall since entering the race. The remaining three candidates are Oscar L. Fleckner of Columbus, former city manager of Springfield and former state liquor director; Municipal Judge John E. Sweeney of Cleveland, and Mayor Frank X. Kryzan of Youngstown.

Damascus

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hans entertained her grandmother, Mrs. Amos Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer English of Louisville, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Phillips of Canton, and the hostess, mother, Mrs. A. W. Stryfeler at an informal get-together Sunday evening. A buffet lunch was served and the time was spent in visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sommerville and children of Chillicothe and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Painter of Sigel Pa., were weekend guests of Mrs. Eva Sommerville and Paul.

The time of the choir rehearsals at the Damascus Methodist Church has been changed and now will be Friday evenings at 7:45.

A group of seniors of Goshen Union High School took the scholarship tests given at Youngstown College Tuesday.

B. P. Young of Ellsworth called on Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Talbott on Monday.

"REAL COOL"—Drummin' man Jimmy Rogers said, "I feel real cool," as he drummed his way past the 24-hour mark in his attempt to break the world record for pounding a drum. The husky 240-pound Rogers is making his record attempt in a Columbus (O.) music shop. The record, 68 hours, 11 minutes, and 47 seconds, was set last year by Sam Ullano, a New York drummer. The contest requirement is one lick per second.
